

Nixon in Madison; He and Kennedy in Final Appeals

Kennedy Gains in Recent AP Survey

Many States Still in Tossup Category With Observers Wary About Victory Predictions

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Associated Press survey shows that Sen. John F. Kennedy has gained considerably in his electoral vote outlook since a similar check three weeks ago.

However, many of the states were in the doubtful or tossup category, including several of the bigger ones. Vice President Richard M. Nixon could overtake Kennedy if he wins a significant number of these doubtful states while keeping his own bloc intact.

It is possible that the latest AP survey, conducted last week, does not fully reflect any influence President Eisenhower's late-inning speechmaking may have had in Nixon's favor.

Many Uncommitted

The survey was based on judgments of AP political observers in all parts of the country, newspaper analyses, party leaders and certain poll findings. It was believed that in a number of states the silent, undecided vote was big enough to tip the result one way or the other.

The survey provided this breakdown: Kennedy ahead in 15 states with 197 electoral votes — 72 short of the 269 needed to win. There are a total of 537 electoral votes.

Nixon ahead in 17 states with 112 electoral votes — 85 behind the minimum needed for election.

Listed as tossups were 18 states with 226 electoral votes.

In the AP survey three weeks ago Nixon was given a lead in 19 states with 141 electoral votes.

Kennedy was credited with 14 states with 129 votes, and 17 states with 267 votes were listed as doubtful.

Gains in Big States

Kennedy's jump into the forefront is traced to his gaining an apparent lead in New York (45) and California (32), both listed as doubtful last time. But the California edge for Kennedy is considered very small.

Nixon gained Utah (4) from the doubtful group. But Illinois (27), Wyoming (3) and Hawaii (3) moved from the Nixon column into the doubtful category.

Nixon has been saying he senses a strong tide of victory running in his favor. But with the possible exception of Ohio (26), the AP survey did not show any clear signs of such a tide.

Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion was reported as contributing to the doubtful status of Minnesota (11), Texas (24), North Carolina (14), Missouri (13) and Kentucky (10).

However, in some large industrial states with sizable Catholic populations there was some indication that Kennedy's religion was an advantage.

Democrat Says Power Deters Reds

BY RELMAN MORIN

WITH KENNEDY in New England (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy opened the last day of his presidential campaign today with a charge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon believes that peace can be secured "by parades and visits to the Soviet Union."

He said in Providence, R.I., that the productive power of the United States "put to great purposes" is the only real answer to the struggle with the Communists.

That, Kennedy said, is the "basic issue" of the campaign.

Heavy TV Bill
Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said estimates indicated that the Republicans are spending $600,000 for television time today. He said this includes Nixon's four-hour question and answer telecast this afternoon and three "choice one-half-hour spots."

"We are demanding to know from the vice president sometime during his telecast what is the origin of these funds and what commitments were made to get them," Salinger said.

Sees Welfare of World in Balance

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — With a desperate spurt as he neared the finish line of one of the most arduous campaigns in American history, Vice President Nixon today told a cheering and shivering crowd here that the presidential election Tuesday involves the welfare of 3 billion people in the world as well as 180 million Americans.

Nixon made a quick stop in Madison to try to swing the electoral vote of this state which is generally counted in the doubtful column, and drew a surprising audience of about 7,500 at the distant airport at 7:30 a.m.

In what was probably the most enthusiastic Republican rally in this Democratic city in many years, Nixon was loudly applauded as he said that "the White House is not a training school," and in another stout blow at Sen. John Kennedy, denounced "false predictions of depression."

Arrives By Jet
The Democratic nominee drew 12,000 persons when he spoke here two weeks ago at the University Fieldhouse on a Sunday afternoon.

Nixon flew here in a jet airliner with his party en route from Alaska to Detroit.

The Republican state organization worked heavily during the weekend to get out a crowd and succeeded beyond its expectations. Traffic was jammed for several hours.

9 Killed in Quebec Crash

Bus, Station Wagon Collide on Curve East of Ottawa

TEMPLETON, Que. (AP)—Nine persons were killed last night and at least 10 others injured when a bus and a station wagon collided head-on on a slight curve near this town 10 miles east of Ottawa.

The station wagon penetrated five feet into the bus. All five persons in the car were killed. So were bus driver Paul Poirier, 30, of Buckingham, and three of his 17 passengers.

A light snow at the time was not believed a factor in the crash. A policeman said it was falling too lightly to obscure the drivers' vision and that most of it had blown off the highway, leaving it dry.

The bus was en route from Hull to Buckingham.

Ambulances took the injured to several hospitals in the area. They suffered fractures, bruises and cuts, but none was believed in critical condition.

The driver of the station wagon was Roland Lavigne, 29, of Hull. With him were his brother Emile, 21; two Ottawa men, Patrick G. Mayville, 21, and William Sauve, 19, and a fifth person who was not identified immediately.

Police also released the names of three more dead without saying whether they were passengers in the bus or station wagon. They were Lorne Foucault, 18; Jean Claude Roland, 21, and Normand Gauthier, 21, all of Hull.

The ninth dead person was reported to be a woman.

2,800,000 Strike in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Workers estimated to number 2,800,000 struck throughout Argentina today, paralyzing all industrial activity and slowing other business to a crawl. The strikers were protesting President Arturo Frondizi's veto of a severance pay law.

Trains, subways, buses, streetcars all stopped running. Factories, meat packing plants and other industries shut down. The work stoppage is slated to continue 24 hours.

No violence was reported. Federal police patrolled this capital city in battle dress.

About a quarter of Buenos Aires' shops managed to open, but none of the big stores. Movies were closed but pharmacies opened. Commuters trying to get to work used bicycles, their thumbs for hitchhiking or walked.

Vandals Leave Wide Trail of Broken Panes

3-County Spree Causes More Than $5,000 in Damages

CHILTON — Joy riding vandals Saturday night left a trail of broken windows over a three-county area but apparently escaped without leaving any clues of their identity.

Mrs. C. J. Kosmosky, Calumet county undersheriff, this morning estimated the damage caused by the rock hurling vandals would mount well over $5,000.

The trail apparently starts in Taycheedah in Fond du Lac County, where windows were reported broken in homes and business establishments about 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Hit Kaukauna
Between 6:30 and 6:45 p.m. four windows were reported broken at Kaukauna: Beyer's Building Supply, 1023 Lawe St., Brooks Shoe Repair, 309 Crooks Ave., the homes of Julius Konrad, 820 Lawe St., and Merel Martin, 1701 Crooks Ave. All are along Highway 55.

Calumet County, in the center of the 40-mile circle of destruction, was hardest hit, with some 35 windows reported broken and more reports coming in. The report from Fond du Lac County was fragmentary, but damage was noted to schools, business establishments and homes along the 151-55 route north.

Mrs. Kosmosky said it is assumed that the breakage was done from a car with the vandals using a sling-shot-like weapon. Rocks and pebbles were used, although Turn to Page 13, Col. 2

Kennedy Speaks After Nixon 4-Hour Telethon

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, said today he will go on the air this evening to reply to his opponent's scheduled 4-hour telethon.

He said he will appear on the American Broadcasting Company's television network from 5 to 5:30 p.m. CST.

Kennedy's program will originate in Manchester, N.H. Appearing with him, he said, will be Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina.

A taped 15-minute show for Kennedy is scheduled to be telecast over NBC and CBS at 6 p.m., CST.

GOP Group to Pay For Broadcast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's four-hour television marathon today will be paid for by the Republican Independent Television Committee, a Republican spokesman said today.

That committee, the spokesman added, also paid for last night's television broadcast from Los Angeles in which Nixon said President Eisenhower had agreed to visit eastern European countries next year if Nixon is elected president.

L. Richard Guylay, public relations director for the Republican National Committee, said the independent television committee was established to conform with provisions of the Hatch act.

Reds Show Rockets In Military Parade

Defense Minister Boasts of Might While He Talks Peace

BY PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today showed off a dozen "silver needle" rockets and said they were the type that brought down Francis Gary Powers' American U2 plane on May 1.

The rockets were the highlight of an eight-minute parade of military might through Red Square in celebration of the 43rd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Watching the parade from atop the Lenin-Stalin tomb were Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and many of the top leaders of world Communism, including Chinese President Liu Shao-chi.

Before the march past the tomb, Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky in the chief speech of the day said the Soviet army and navy, "so far as technical equipment and armament is concerned, are on the most modern level of science and technique."

"They have everything at their disposal to assure the inviolability of the Soviet state," Marshal Malinovsky declared.

His words were cheered by a crowd of about 10,000 in the square.

Classrooms Picketed

School Teachers in New York City On Strike First Time in History

NEW YORK (AP)—School teachers struck today for the first time in the history of New York City schools.

Picket lines formed at day-break, with sign-carrying teachers pacing the sidewalks outside classrooms. They defied threats that they would be fired for such action.

What proportion of the teaching personnel was involved in the city's far-flung system could not be quickly determined. Students were advised to report to classes as usual, despite the walkout.

The striking United Federation of Teachers claims to represent a fourth of the 40,000 teachers in the city's public schools. Enrollment exceeds a million.

Al Shanker, a union official, said more than 5,000 teachers were expected to picket at all 128 junior high schools, 80 of 88 high schools and about 200 of 600 elementary schools.

An hour before classtime, 40 teachers marched outside Seward Park High School on Manhattan's lower east side. Six pickets patrolled Dunbar Junior High school in the Bronx. They said 60 of 80 teachers there were striking.

Eight pickets took up posts at La Salle Junior High in midtown Manhattan.

At one school only one of 20 teachers normally on duty by 8:30 a.m. had shown up.

Charles Cogen, UFT president, called the strike "a great success." "Thousands of teachers all over the city are staying out," he said.

School officials pressed attendance officers, substitutes and non-teaching personnel into classroom duty, and shuffled staff members from school to school, in emergency efforts to man classes.

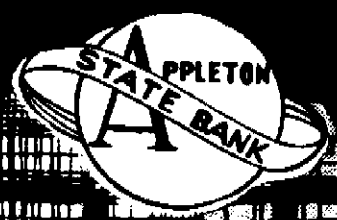

The union has accused the school board of breaking promises regarding collective bargaining, sick pay benefits and other issues. The strike coincided with the start of "Open School Week," when parents traditionally are invited to visit schools to watch them in action.

Education officials have said the striking teachers would lose their jobs and possibly their state teaching certificates. The state's Condon-Wadlin law prohibits work stoppages by public employees.

Teachers Warned
Hopes that a strike could be averted disappeared last night when officers of the union broke off day-long talks with City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix.

The UFT, affiliated with the AFL-CIO, is only one of 39 teacher organizations in the city and claims to represent 10,000 of the city's 40,000 teachers.

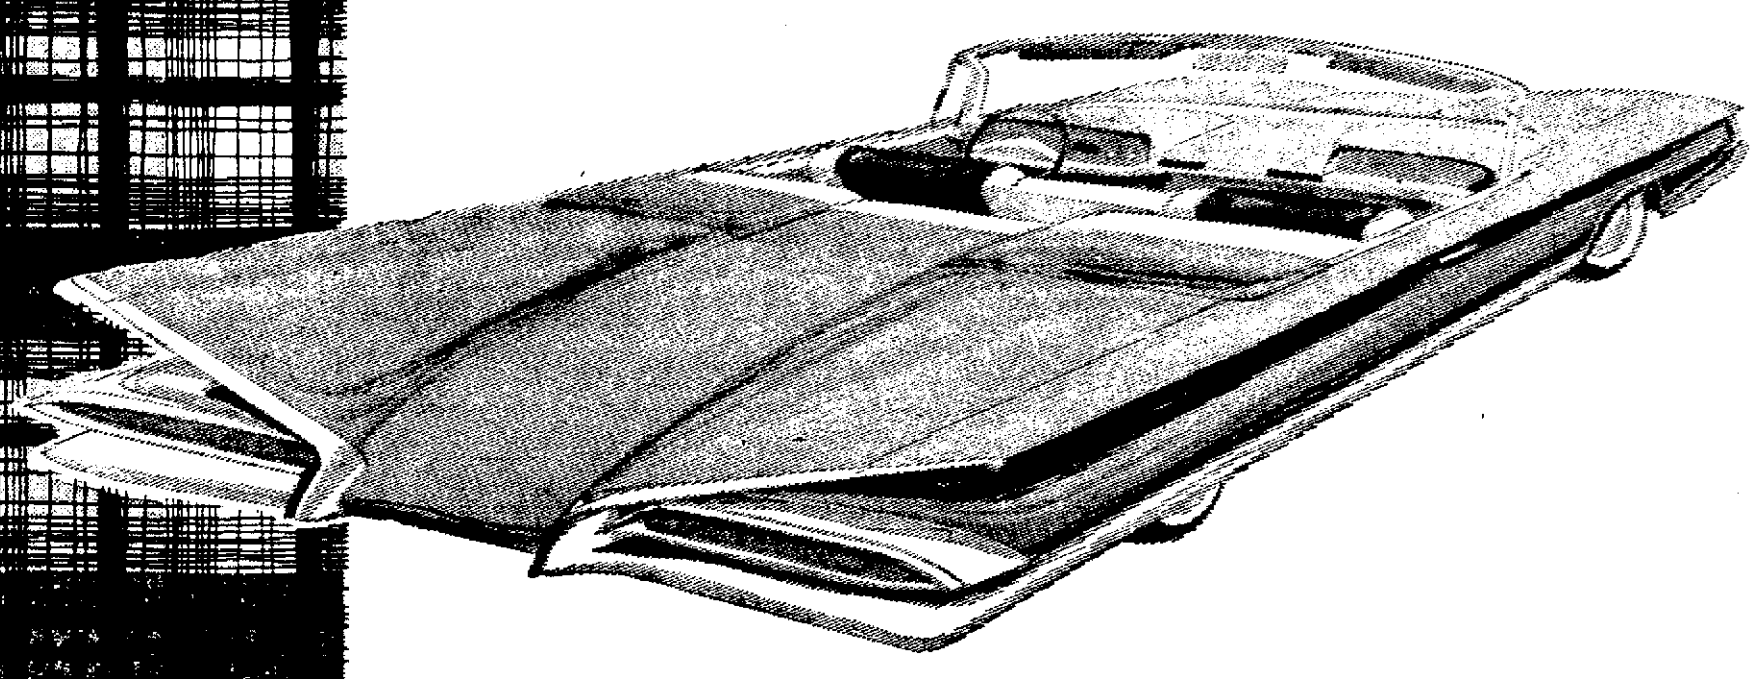

Teachers were warned that those who strike or observe picket lines would lose their jobs.

Be Sure to Vote Tuesday

The late Sen. Taft had the idea that Republicans often lost elections because so many of them stayed home. Discussing this question recently, Sen. Goldwater said the stay-at-homes were the conservative minded persons in both parties.

He said the conservative takes an absolute position, and this is a mistake. The conservative looks over the candidates and says "this man does not suit me in several respects" and therefore he does not vote. He is dissatisfied in some minor details perhaps with the candidates of his party and would not consider voting for the other party even though the candidate pleased him more. Thus he loses his influence.

Sen. Goldwater points out the normal difference between the Republican and Democratic parties at the polls is only about 3.5 million votes. But in 1958, 8.5 million fewer people voted for Republican candidates for Congress than in 1956. That means, according to Sen. Goldwater, that 4.5 million people were trying to express dissatisfaction with candidates by staying at home. The irony of the situation, he says, is that the stay-at-homes instead of expressing their wishes actually get the candidate whose philosophy they disagree with the most.

Today the campaigns are at an end. The issues have been discussed fully. People have had more information about their candidates this year than ever before in the history of the world. It is well that they did for the choice is an important one.

Grave responsibilities will rest upon the men chosen for president and for vice-president as well as those for congress. Their activities may mean the difference between peace and war for this nation and if war comes, the difference between life and death for literally thousands of American citizens.

Important also is the choice for governor, for the other state offices, and for the men to represent people in the state legislature. No person in the state of Wisconsin has a more important thing to do Tuesday than to vote.

Study the Voting Machine!

It's safe to assume a sizable number of Outagamie County voters will leave the voting machines Tuesday without casting a ballot for president.

Most of them won't even realize it. Some will learn — too late — that they unintentionally forfeited their right to cast a ballot in the most important race.

It's all because of the mechanics of operating the voting machine. The machine is a marvelous device. It makes it impossible to spoil a ballot. It is accurate. It eliminates the tedious job of counting, thus speeding up recording of the tally.

Unfortunately, it also is a bit confusing to those unfamiliar with its operation. In Wednesday's mock election at Appleton High School, more than one in five who voted for governor failed to vote for president. Young people aren't easily fooled by mechanical contraptions. Their parents must be doubly cautious not to let their vote go by default.

When you step to the voting machine Tuesday remember: A straight party vote does not record a vote for president. A separate lever must be pulled for the presidential contest. In order to vote in all contests, a minimum of three levers must be pulled — one for president, one for a straight party vote for all state, congressional and county candidates on that ticket, and one for the bonding limit referendum. Those who wish to split their tickets must use individual levers over the candidates' names.

Voters using paper ballots do not have as great a problem. The presidential ballot is separate and it is quite obvious it must be marked if a vote for president is to be counted.

One more note of caution. If, after closing the curtain on the machine, you have a question, call to the election board worker. Do not open the curtain again. Using the curtain lever automatically records your vote and locks the machine.

It might pay you to study the voting machine diagram at the polling place before you vote, or the diagram that appears in the Post-Crescent today.

The Outagamie County Fair

The Outagamie County Fair Association has asked the County Board to place $15,000 in the 1961 budget to help finance premium and judging expenses for farm folk who enter their produce and livestock in competition.

The association, according to its secretary, Michael Burns, feels the county is justified in helping pay these expenses because the Fair is a community project involving not only the farmers but the city residents who annually enjoy this method of encouraging young farm people to develop their interests and stay on the farm.

The premium department's expense includes not only $8,000 paid out to exhibitors in the county but the cost of hiring judges, superintendents, clerical help, furnishing supplies, etc. In 10 years, the premium cost itself has risen from $3,726 to $8,304, indicating that more young people and adults are participating.

Urban interest in the Fair is shown by the thousands who attend annually from the cities, by the fact an Appleton department store put on an elaborate style show there last fall and the budding interest of the Retail Division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The County Fair is a time-honored institution which should not be allowed to decay and then die. The Outagamie Fair is recognized as one of the best in Wisconsin and has shown a steady growth in attendance. Quality has been stressed in all phases of its operation.

A suggestion has been made and discussed recently that the county should take over the fair grounds and buildings thus displacing the Fair Association as owner of the property. We have not studied this matter and have no opinion on the merits of this plan but we feel the County Board should do everything in its power to see that the Fair is continued at its present high quality level.

'The Open Door' Question

We find ourselves wondering what Gov. Nelson thought he was saying when he somewhat piously enunciated the "open door" policy for publicly supported higher education during his dedication speech at the Menasha extension center.

For there is nothing new about the idea of every high school graduate being eligible to enroll at a state-supported college, the University of Wisconsin, or any of its several branches.

That has been state law for a long time. The governor has had nothing to do with it. It antedates his own political career by generations.

Nor are we aware there is any official movement for modifying the policy. There has been no bill in the legislature, or any proposal by any responsible group anywhere in the state that we have heard about to modify the historic principle that any high school graduate has a fair chance to compete at a publicly supported college or university in Wisconsin.

What the governor did not say is perhaps the reason for his oblique remarks. It is that there have been some questions asked about the fiscal implications of this traditional policy, in a period when it is perfectly obvious that the enrollments of high school graduates in tax-supported colleges and universities may triple, or even quadruple.

These columns, among others, have said that during a time when the consumption of such very costly public services is ever more broadly based, the source of public income also must be flattened considerably to accommodate it.

This is the rationale for the tax revision investigation at Madison, as the governor surely is aware, but which he finds it convenient to gloss over during a campaign season. Even today the university about which he speaks so solicitously is putting out public statements warning of a deterioration of staff, curriculum and plant, during his administration. It insists, with more vigor than public officials customarily exhibit, that its financial sustenance must be increased in the new biennium — quite aside from the number of students it may attract.

To suggest that an awareness of the financial implications of these demands, coupled with the plain inferences of the enrollment statistics, is an undemocratic view toward the ideals of public education is unworthy. We suspect that he is fully as aware of these omens as we are, but that he is here exhibiting the uncomfortable political party harness he is wearing. He has been unable to bring the Democratic party of the state to a semblance of realism on the financial dilemma that today would face any governor — and which today faces its own Democratic incumbent.

State, Local Governments Still Most Important to Electorate

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Considering the traditions of politics, the training of politicians and the frailties of humankind, the Wisconsin campaign for governor this year was a reasonably civilized and constructive one.

Wyngaard

Both candidates for the most part confined their campaign speeches and publicity and propaganda — and much of it was propaganda — to state affairs questions, without the detours into irrelevant subjects that have tempted so many state party leaders in the past.

Both of them showed an awareness of the changing nature of state and local government and the changing and enlarging size of the public service problems that require the best minds the political system can produce.

More important, both of them appeared to have a real awareness that, in spite of the growing might and financial importance of the national government and the growing preoccupation of average citizens with the national governmental power, state government and its creature, local governments remain closer to the citizen than ever before.

THE DOUBTS

It is a fact that is too often ignored by the public opinion makers of Wisconsin.

This reporter recently heard a man of high intelligence, occupying a strategically important position, dismiss state and local government as of only marginal significance at a time when national political decisions must be made by the electorate.

He was thinking about war and peace, about inflation, about the vast new spheres of influence of the federal establishment in private life—as in the social security expansion argument — about government intervention in the wage market, in agricultural economics, and in a hundred other fields that would not have been believed by his grandfather.

It would be idle to deny that the center of political power has changed. But it also is true that during the same period of heavy centralization in Washington and the acceptance of ever new roles for the national government, the functions of state and local governments have enlarged also.

Education, basic public welfare services, communications, highways, protective services, all of them of vital concern to the health and happiness of the body politic — remain local services, directed by local officials responsive to the will of the local electorate.

COMPARISON

Everybody knows about the hugely increased tax exactions of the national government in his life-time.

Yet it is a significant fact that of the total of non-defense purpose taxation that is imposed in this state, the share that is attributable to state and local government is larger than that which is accounted for by the burgeoning costs of the national governmental establishment.

Considering the total of governmental operations in a day of proliferating public services at all levels, state and local governments continue to do more for the average man and to tax him more than does the national government.

In their different ways, Candidates Nelson and Kucin recognized this basic character of the neighborhood government. In their differing ways they also showed an appreciation of the fact that if state and local government ultimately withers away and is absorbed into an immense, all-powerful, all-purpose national government structure, it will be because the people of the states and the localities permitted it. They made it clear that they do not want it to happen.

Industry Has Obligation to Provide Jobs

From The Strasburg (Va.) Daily

We hear a lot about which candidate will create conditions under which there will be less unemployment in the United States. It is not the responsibility of government to provide jobs for its citizens. This is the responsibility of private industry. The more government meddles with employment the more likely we are to have a powerful dictatorial central government.

It is the duty of government to create conditions under which private industry and business can grow and therefore provide jobs for our citizens. One of the main incentives for industry to expand, is an equitable tax situation. Favorable tax conditions enable industries to compete with world sources of the same product and therefore keep employment up. The second main incentive for industrial and business expansion is the profit motive. Unless investors can make a normal profit from the stock they own in business and industrial firms, they are likely to reduce, rather than increase job opportunities.

It is reported that Garibaldi will be offered the rank of Prince and General after the annexation of Naples is effected. King Victor Emmanuel has arrived at Genoa in Naples and Garibaldi has entered Capitan.

What Others are Saying

Former Democratic Secretary of State Supports Nixon, Lodge

Statement of James F. Byrnes, South Carolina, Democratic secretary of state under Harry Truman in 1945 and long a leader in the Democratic party, given at Columbia, S. C., in support of the Republican presidential ticket:

"From many citizens and from representatives of the South Carolina Democrats for Nixon. I have received inquiries as to my position in the approaching election. My answer is that I shall vote for Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Mind Changed
"At the Democratic National convention the delegation from South Carolina unanimously voted against the platform and against Sen. Kennedy. They were right . . .

"I do not agree that the Democratic platform can be ignored. Sen. Kennedy has stated almost daily that he believes in that platform and will do all in his power to put it into effect. I believe him to be an honorable man who will not violate his pledge . . .

"If in the Democratic platform there was no mention of civil rights, I still would regard it as the most dangerous program ever adopted by a political party. It constitutes a threat to our system of free enterprise and a threat to what is left of local governments.

"I will not discuss Sen. Kennedy's apparent domination by certain labor leaders. He owes his nomination to them and they know how to collect . . .

"The President is directly responsible for foreign affairs and during the 60 days prior to inauguration, Sen. Kennedy would have to learn not only all about domestic affairs, but also he would have to become familiar with the relations existing between the United States and the various governments of the world. At any time this would be a tremendous task, but particularly so now, as events in the United Nations during the past week prove the Soviets are bent on increasing world tensions. They would welcome the confusion certain to result from a complete change in our government.

Nixon's Experience

"While candidate Kennedy has had no experience in an executive capacity, Vice President Nixon for eight years has attended all cabinet meetings; he has been acting as chairman of the National Security Council; he has been in constant conference with the President as to our foreign problems. By appointment of the President he has visited nearly all important countries and has had personal conferences with the men at the head of those governments . . .

"The President of the United States is not only head of a government of 180 million people, he is head of the free world. Wednesday morning I was surprised to read that Sen. Kennedy, in a prepared speech in Washington said 'The United States will continue to lose ground relatively to the Communists, unless we have a President in the 60s who acts first and acts fast'.

"First, I deny that the United States is losing ground to the Communists, and I regret that a candidate for the presidency should give such comfort to Mr. Khrushchev. Only this week in the United Nations on an issue arising in the Congo, with the Soviets on one side and the United States on the other, the Soviets could not muster one vote.

Nothing of Thinking
"I am disturbed by the rest of the statement. He said nothing about thinking before acting . . . the presidency is no place for an immature or impetuous man.

"In the world of today we cannot live alone or act alone. The senator's statement will not be reassuring to the heads of the allied governments and particularly those countries where by permission, we have military bases. They are under the guns. They do not want us to stumble into war.

"I regret also that Sen. Kennedy charges almost daily that the United States has lost prestige throughout the world and in the field of military preparedness, economic growth and education, is standing still while the Soviets move ahead of us.

Reds Quote Critics

"During the two years I spent negotiating with the Soviet leaders, they frequently quoted to me statements criticizing our government, made by some newspapers and by some men in public life. These statements the Soviets accepted as fact, although they had never been regarded as serious in this country. The danger is that Khrushchev, who, like Sen. Kennedy, believes in 'acting first and fast,' may be misled by these statements and believe we are weak.

"To justify his criticism that we have lost prestige abroad, Sen. Kennedy refers to Japan's withdrawal of its invitation to President Eisenhower and to Khrushchev's criticism of the President at Paris . . .

"Because Khrushchev's minions could inspire the Communists of Japan to demonstrate against the head of the Japanese government and our President, is not proof that the United States has lost prestige. Since the prime minister of Japan vacated his office there has been no demonstration of any kind against the United States, but, on the contrary, our relations are better today than at any time since the Japanese surrender . . .

When the Democratic candidate charges failure to maintain adequate defenses, I prefer to accept the statement of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who are not candidates for office, and who state positively that today the United States is second in military strength to no power.

No Boys Lost

"President Eisenhower is not a candidate. If Sen. Kennedy holds Vice President Nixon responsible for all of what he considers weaknesses of the President, then certainly Nixon should be credited with the accomplishments of the administration — not the least of which is that since the end of the Korean war (started during the previous administration), we have lost no American boys in combat and we have preserved peace with honor.

"It has been almost eight years now since we picked up our morning newspaper to read the casualty list. My prayer is that the parents of this day will not be forced to again read those lists.

"I believe sincerely that prayer is more likely to be answered if the people of the United States elect as their President the able and experienced vice president, Richard Nixon.

"I do not tell any person how to vote. That is an individual right which everyone must exercise according to his own conscience . . ."

The Golden Years

Suggests Schools to Teach About Retiring

BY THOMAS COLLINS
"The average person spends 12 years in grade schools and often several years in college preparing for a career. This same person spends very little time preparing for retirement. Yet retirement is as important in his life as starting to work."

"Pension plans and Social Security do a good job in helping people make financial preparations for retirement. But what about psychological preparation?"
Industry is coming around to the idea that just as it must teach its young employees how to work, it must teach the old ones how to quit. But what do you teach? Butterfly catching and snapshots can't fill the void left by a paying job. And loafing can't fill anything but a hammock.

The only answer as I see it is for the worker at age 60 to start learning a new trade or a new career that will provide him a paying job... or else retirement must be put on a voluntary basis that allows the worker to carry on until he drops if he chooses. The educational system and not the worker's company may eventually take over the problem.

"My husband retired in April, 1959, and we came to a spot in central Kentucky that had been our dream for 15 years. We spent more of our savings than we intended in order to acquire the country place that had been our vision. We put a five-year mortgage on the property and my husband's pension could handle it. "Three months ago, virtually without warning, my husband died."

"I was left with enough money to get by. But I was left with a house that was not intended for a widow alone and with a way of life that has no appeal for one-half of a couple. But there is no path open for escape. The life that went before was cashed in in order to get this one."
This is a tragic chapter of retirement that keeps recurring. Yet nobody at retirement time ever thinks it will happen to them.
Every major retirement project, particularly those that involve moving to a new environment to live, must take into account the future of the one spouse should the other spouse die.

War of Sexes
"In the war between the sexes that seems to rage on until our hair turns gray there is one factor on the side of the man that is usually overlooked. When the man retires from his job, he usually starts drifting away from his friends almost at once because most of his friends are connected in some way with his business or his job. The wife, on the other hand, who has been cultivating her friends in the neighborhood over many years does not lose a single one of them when her husband retires."

Wisconsin Has Tended to be as cautious on that score as most of the other states of the country. The 21 year old rule applies in 48 of the 50 states. Only Georgia and Kentucky have reduced the eligibility age to 18 although the subject has been discussed throughout the country for decades.

The Wisconsin constitution sets the voting age at 21 years, but it also provides that the legislature can extend the suffrage at its discretion subject to a popular referendum. Thus a liberalization of the voting age rule would require not only action by both houses of the legislature, but a ratifying vote by a majority of the voters who vote in the subsequent referendum.

Add 200,000 Votes
According to the recent computation of age groups within the Wisconsin population permitting persons of 18 and above to vote would add from 200,000 to 225,000 persons to the Wisconsin electorate or nearly 10 per cent.

Historically the Wisconsin record on extension of the suffrage has been a liberal one. Women's suffrage was permitted in Wisconsin in local elections before the national women's suffrage amendment. The original Wisconsin constitution permitted Negro suffrage six years ago the state, with the state of Connecticut pioneered a law permitting persons who did not meet the one year residence requirement for general voting to vote for president and vice president under a special procedure.

Little Chance Of Voting Age Being Reduced

State Has Record As Cautious in Extending Suffrage

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—Reducing the voting age in Wisconsin to 18 years continues to have sporadic discussion among the politicians, but there is comparatively little chance that the idea will be enacted into law, according to most observers of the state political scene.

Bills to permit voting at 18, rather than the traditional age of 21 years, have turned up in almost every recent legislature. But they have not shown the kind of public backing that such a considerable change in political practice requires in order to be persuasive among senators and assemblymen.

Journey Into Canada

Visitor Notes International Flavor in Stop at Terrace Bay

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

TERRACE BAY, Ont. — A visitor arriving at the Terrace Bay Hotel here on a given night may be greeted by a Scotsman with a bold and bonny burr straight from the Middle Highlands, be served by an Italian barman and waited upon by a French-Canadian waitress.

This international flavor, common throughout Canada, reflects brightly in the 1,900 people who live in this community created by the Kimberly-Clark Corporation. The writer met many Terrace Bay citizens during our stay here. We found them to be courteous, helpful folk who share many of the same joys and problems as those of us here in the Fox River Valley.

Their community today is modern and up-to-date. But that wasn't always so. Life must have been hard here when the community was in its infancy. It must have required a special toughness, a unique fibre, to help build and grow with a new town in the bush far removed from civilization. Yet, those here now who were here when the town was born shrug off those years with a casual "we made it."

Clears the Land

John De Laronde first saw Terrace Bay, for instance, from the seat of a caterpillar about 14 years ago. He was one of the men who helped clear the land and drill for footings. Today, De Laronde holds time card No. 1 in the mill. He, his wife Isabella and son Brian have just purchased their attractive, comfortable home on Pine Crescent from the company. We met John and Isabella De Laronde our first night in Terrace Bay. They invited us to visit their home later during our stay and we did. De Laronde served during the war with the Canadian Field Artillery. His wife, a native of England, served there with the Auxiliary Territorial Services.

Conservation is a subject of concern to every family in Terrace Bay and the community has a man who is well known throughout all of Canada for his service in that field. T. S. (Stan) Hodgkiss is first vice president of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, the largest organization of outdoorsmen in the province. Stan also is Zone One president of the Northwestern Ontario Conservation Federation and a past president of the Terrace Bay Rod and Gun Club.

We had several lengthy discussions with Hodgkiss (stories on these talks will appear on the Post-Crescent's outdoor pages) and Mrs. Hodgkiss personally escorted my wife on a tour of Terrace Bay and surrounding area.

Busiest Man

Fred Soughton must be one of the busiest men in Terrace Bay. He is training coordinator at the mill, owner of a beautifully-stocked gift shop in town and chairman of the community's newly which, one day, will be a chamber of commerce.

A native of Canada, Soughton gave us a particularly keen insight into the problems and benefits which will be Terrace Bay's as a result of the new Trans-Canada Highway. He believes, as do many others, that the new road will bring thousands of tourists into the community next summer. As a businessman, he can see the Bay editor of the Kimberly-Clark magazine "Cooperation." The writer was closely associated with Thompson, since he was my "contact" while in Terrace Bay. As head of the mill's safety program, Thompson is charged with making each employee safety conscious. To do this, the company provides a $5,000 annual budget for safety promotion. The success of this expenditure and the intensity of Thompson's efforts is reflected in the fact that Kimberly-Clark's Terrace Bay mill has compiled one of the best safety records of any paper mill in Canada.

One of the company's earliest policy decisions was to decree that the mill, as soon as possible, would be managed and operated totally with Canadian labor.

As a result, only Mill Manager Shirriff and George DeLong, head auto mechanic, remain from the original contingent of American executive and labor force which put the mill on its feet. Shirriff said the mill is moving swiftly toward that time when it will be entirely a Canadian operation. The mill manager, who came here in 1950 as technical superintendent, voiced pleasure at his years in Canada. He, too, agreed the company will have to study the impact of increased tourist activity.

Others are Vital

There are many others, too, who play a vital role in the community: Dr. Mike McCausland, who has cared for the ills of the townspeople since the early days; John Ferrier, the reeve or mayor, about whom we wrote earlier in this series; Edward Cavanaugh, postmaster and a member of the original town board; Desmond Evans-Smith, manager of the Terrace Bay branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

We'll remember others, too—Mina Mahoney of Port Arthur, Gertrude Nadeau of Montreal, a French-Canadian girl, and all of the other hotel waitresses and staff members; Paul Magi, the barman, who came to Canada from Italy only three years ago; Frank Cornwall of England, the head chef.

These are a few of Terrace Bay's people. We met them and liked them. You may meet some of them, too, if you should come here next summer. We hope you'll say hello for us.

Let's Go Skiing With

Due to the terrific demand for his two hour lecture films, Warren has added a full musical score and his own personal narration to his highly successful, "Let's Go Skiing With Warren Miller." This film was shown to standing room only audiences in most of the major cities of America last winter.

Only one change will be noticed in the film . . . Instead of Warren narrating it in person, his voice will be on an optical sound track and the show will have a brief filmed introduction of Warren. Same voice, same humor, same film. (Many people think it is a sound film, even when Warren is there in person.)

The film will be personally presented by Warren Miller's close friend and associate Mr. Royce Asher, ski school director, racer, and world traveler. His experience will add a lot to your evening. Mr. Asher will be in Prange's Ski Shop Wednesday afternoon, November 9th.

Supt. Mann Lists Curriculum Goals

Language Skills, Facts, Ability To Generalize are Emphasized

BY JOHN P. MANN
Superintendent of Schools

Three things are necessary in the learning of a child previous to the development of belief or the exercise of judgment. The child must develop skills in the use of language, learn facts and associate facts for purposes of generalization.

Several skills that take the time of primary children are reading, writing, spelling and the fundamentals of arithmetic. Speed and comprehension of reading are needed to the understanding of the printed page. The development of what is known as a sight vocabulary acquaints youngsters with meaningfulness of words, phrases and sentences. Coupled with this is an ability to sound words by phonic attack. Some parents are of the impression that phonics is not taught in the schools. This is far from accurate. The "Alice & Jerry" series of readers have a definite system of phonics and this system is used in the Appleton Public Schools.

The California Reading Test — Form W was given during the spring of 1960 to all Primary I pupils. Their median grade accomplishment was 3.2 for vocabulary and 2.3 for comprehension. Inasmuch as 1.0 would have been evident for these students, it is evident that fairly good reading accomplishment was attained.

The total accomplishment of the intermediate grades has not been determined for September, 1960, but the record for 1959 showed at least one grade advancement for the entire intermediate department.

Arithmetic skills results showed a grade level ranging three months to six months above the national median for the grade. It is generally recognized that the reading and arithmetic skills are taught with better than average results. However, the teaching staff in Appleton recognizes too that better results can be obtained by better use of methods of instruction.

Facts are needed for thinking. It is impossible for one person to learn and retain all information. The schools have the job to assign factual learning on the basis of need. Determination of need varies among people but history itself has shown that some facts are needed more than others. Curriculum experts are on a continuous search to determine what learning is most essential for boys and girls. Dr. Conant, in his study of secondary education, has stressed the need for English, foreign language, history, geography, mathematics, and other areas as essential for the learning of secondary students. Quality of education is stressed in schools. This requires not only facts learned in quantity, but facts learned meaningfully.

A third factor in development of skill is that of association of facts for purposes of generalization. Another way of expressing this is to learn how to think. One thinks with ability when he uses accurately his thinking for purposes of correct generalization resulting in accurate judgment.

A judgment is made to determine a course of action.

What one learns and how one uses his learning is the result of courses taken in school, and environmental influences that affect a learner's desire.

There are many points of view regarding the details of curriculum, what should be offered and route, handling only southeast-bound vehicles in the morning, and then reversing to exclusive northwest flow in the afternoon should work in proportion to his potential to learn.

Many Tips for Winter Driving

Whether you plan to do a little or a lot of winter driving, the Institute for Safer Living urges taking these important precautions: Have your car checked for safe mechanical performance, including brakes, lights, and windshield wipers. Be sure that exhaust pipe, muffler and tailpipe are leakproof and in good condition. Put a bag of sand in the trunk compartment to throw under wheels for that little extra traction; keep a supply of clean rags for windshield and window cleaning. Carry flare and flashlight for after dark emergencies. Above all, adjust driving habits to slower, safer speeds.

New Books

Uprising in South Africa Viewed by Correspondent

"The Tragedy of Apartheid" began March 21, 1960, when the first wave of black nationalism swept southward through the African continent. On that same day Norman Phillips, foreign news editor of the Toronto Star was flying toward Johannesburg. "Tragedy of Apartheid" is a new non-fiction book by this reporter which tells of the violence and background of the South African riots. It is one of the new non-fiction books now on reserve at the Appleton Public Library. The story of underwater exploration, discovery of historical treasure and adventure in the rugged island areas off the coast of Yucatan are related in "Diving for Pleasure and Treasure," by Clay Blair, Jr. An adventure story of a different sort is told in "Journey Into Summer," by Edwin Way Teale. It is the story of a 19,000-mile journey through the North American summer by a top nature writer and photographer. Other non-fiction titles include "Joe Martin — My First Fifty Years in Politics," as told to Robert J. Donovan; "Comstockery in America," by Robert W. Haney, the story of censorship and control of mass media and entertainment; and "Land for the Future," by Marion Clawson. R. Burnell Held and Charles H. Stoddard, the story of a nation planning for conservation of its land in the light of a population and industrial expansion. "Anastasia Schultz," by Todd Hunt, is the humorous story of a college freshman from the turkey capitol of the world who is caught in a beatnik world the first day on the campus of the University of Minnesota.

Conflict in South

In a Max Shulman form of humor, Hunt tells the story of the girl who lives in a pad with a bedless mattress and chairless cushions and lives for the love of a beat poet named Gardner Shockett, who writes about fruit flies. The threat that segregation creates in a small southern city is the backdrop of "The Glass Rooster," by William F. McIlwain.

Other new novels are "The Patriot," by Evan S. Connell, Jr., the story of a youth who goes to war and returns a maverick, and "The Double Blind," a novel of a

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office; you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN. State Election Expenses at Record High

Wooing Voters Costs Candidates About $1 Million

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Whether the individual Wisconsin voter smiles or frowns at the election results next Wednesday morning, he may realize that he was courted more ardently and expansively by the parties and their candidates than ever before.

All signs show that when campaign expense accounts are filed the 1960 state political campaign will be shown to be the most costly on record.

An estimate of $1,000,000 for electoral wooing this fall is probably a very conservative one.

Because of expense reporting laws, an actual figure cannot be computed now. Late expenditures won't be reported until after the votes are counted.

Increased Costs

Even when all the accounts are in, an accurate total is unlikely to be recorded, because of methods of reporting, the limited jurisdiction of the state's reporting requirement statutes, and the dispersion of local political committee and candidate accounts among the files of 71 county clerks.

There are several principal reasons for the inflation of political campaign budgets this year.

Unit costs are up, as they are for all other market-place items.

The realignment of the state party system, which has made all previous records for total out-competitor for the Republicans, has tended to equalize fund-raising opportunities.

As the Democrats have become stronger they are able to attract contributions from sources that were indifferent in other years, feeling that their donations would be wasted.

New Income

As Democrats become stronger, the incentive for Republican fund raising has been increased and many of the traditional Republican backers were persuaded to contribute more.

The state election victories of 1958 by the Democrats opened up financing channels that were never available to them when they represented a minority party.

The changing alignment of Wisconsin politics also has brought in some national political groups that formerly wrote off Wisconsin because it tended to be a one-party state.

A considerable effort was made here this year, for example, by the American Federation of Labor-CIO, which was largely indifferent to Wisconsin political competition in the past. The national COPE organization of the AFL-CIO, moreover, probably is beyond the reach of the state statutory money reporting requirements. Thus far there has been no reporting from the national AFL-CIO headquarters on Wisconsin spending.

No Official Report

There is no official summary report from Wisconsin election of disbursement of campaign expenditure statements. They are merely received and filed, and made available for inspection by anyone who asks to see them. Private summaries are difficult because of the inter-relationships of political groups.

But reporters at the capital who have read the reports for years have a uniform impression that campaign appeals have been as intense.

GOP Predicts Gaining Two Congress Districts

Suspect Party Considers First And Second as Victorious Areas

BY FRANCIS MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Republicans will gain two additional congressional seats in Wisconsin, the director of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee predicted today.

This last-lap prognostication reflects increased optimism among the GOP high command here, since about two weeks ago spokesmen for the congressional committee would make no comment whatsoever on the election.

"We won't tell which seats we think we'll gain, because this election will be decided on a policy not to deal in specifics," William Warner, director of the committee explained. "But we see a good chance of picking up these two seats, and we feel sure we will keep those we now have."

Chance in Third

Through the process of elimination, it would appear the two seats to which Warner was referring were the First and Second Districts. These are currently held by two Democrats, Gerald T. Flynn of Racine and Robert W. Kastenmeier of Watertown.

These two seats might be eligible for Republican seizure more than others because the only other gains the GOP could make would be in the traditionally Democratic Milwaukee districts.

Warner said that the GOP lay on voter solicitation have been shattered this year.

Never before has the barrage of campaign appeals been as intense.

or in the Ninth Congressional District.

There is the possibility that Warner might be counting the Third District as one of the two "additional" seats, since its present representative, Congressman Gardner R. Withrow, who started as a "progressive" voluntarily is retiring from public life.

The election of former Gov. Vernon Thomson to this congressional seat therefore might be considered a Republican gain, however, it would not be a numerical gain, because Withrow is listed as a Republican in the congressional directory, and as a Republican in the statistical make-up of the Congress.

Broke Tradition

Reports have been exceptionally good so far as the first two districts are concerned, the Republican high command here in areas other than the campaign congressional committee asserted.

The Rev. Henry C. Shadeberg, Congressional minister from Burlington, is making a good showing in the historically Republican First District against Flynn, who was elected after the death of Republican Rep. Lawrence H. Smith by an electorate who broke away from GOP tradition for the first time in many decades.

So far as the Second District is concerned, both candidates are well known.

Democratic Prospects

Donald E. Tewes of Waukesha was defeated two years ago by Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, Watertown Democrat. They met again this year.

Ten days ago, the Democratic

Citizens Complain About Complaining

OMAHA (AP) — Where do you go to complain about the City Complaint Department? City Council President A. V. Sorensen answered that one by writing Mayor John Rosenblatt. Sorensen noted the department was set up to be a "means of assisting citizens who historically complain about getting the run-around at City Hall."

But, he added, council members are receiving almost daily complaints about the replies and follow-ups to their calls to the Complaint Department.

WHAT DEMOCRAT LEADERS SAY ABOUT KENNEDY

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.): "His statements in regard to campaign expenses are further evidence as to his lack of qualifications for the Presidency. The American people should make clear to Senator Kennedy that the White House will never be put up for sale... it is obvious that the truth is not in him." (Baltimore Sun, 5/29/60)

Harry Truman: "Senator, are you certain that you are quite ready for the country or that the country is ready for you in the role of President in January, 1961? I am greatly concerned and troubled about the situation we are up against in the world now and in the immediate future. That is why I would hope that someone with the greatest possible maturity and experience would be available at this time." (New York Herald Tribune, 7/3/60)

Adlai Stevenson: "The amount of money being spent on Kennedy's campaign is phenomenal, probably the highest amount spent on a campaign in history." (Newsweek, 2/29/60)

Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.): "Kennedy lacks the age and experience to be President in these perilous days. I find it difficult to be secure in the thought of his sitting down with the Adenauers, the DeGaulles, the MacMillans and Khrushchevs as our country wrestles with important problems in the field of international affairs." (Baltimore Sun 4/14/60)

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.): "It's easy for someone to say, 'I can lead a great cause,' but untested we cannot put faith and confidence and our perpetuity in hands like that." (New York Times, 7/14/60)

Dean Acheson: "Too young... still a very young man and unformed... He needs to ripen." (Wash. Daily News, 1/14/59)

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.): "Kennedy voted against the people's interest on such issues as agriculture, rural telephone assistance and library, highway and hospital construction." (Washington Post, 5/9/60)

Political Candidates Use Little Ingenuity in Staging Campaigns

Detailed Organization, Psychological Skills May be Modified, Adapted for Use in State

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The candidate for political office tends to be an incorrigible copy cat. Year after year men and women who run for county, district and state-wide offices use the same techniques for attracting the favorable attention of the voter.

If one of them occasionally changes a traditional method—or rarely invents a new one—eager candidates in each party the next time around will be exploiting it without shame or apology. There are no copyrights or patents in politics.

The essential problem is publicity, favorable publicity. The top candidates usually can afford to hire technicians to help them. The lesser aspirants must devise their own publicity, and usually they merely copy from their rivals or their predecessors. Even the paid professional advisor rarely invents a new method. His job is to manage the timing and the research, and the psychological quality of the speeches, advertisements, slogans and platforms.

Even the most seasoned professional is not always even reasonably sure which of the variety of publicity techniques he is using is the most fruitful. His hope is to have sufficient resources to employ all of them. One result is that there is relatively little science in the practice of politics, whatever the academic students of the subject may assert.

A few years ago a thoughtful and promising member of the state legislature—who has since risen to high office in the state—decided to devote his spare time to an investigation of candidate promotion to discover the techniques that are most productive.

Inquiry Sent

He sent a detailed inquiry to men of personal experience, including hundreds who had run for office successfully, and many others whose professional work or avocational interest keep them in when the notice of her baby's close touch with parties, politicians and campaigns—including paper, professors, party organization officials, newspapermen, and others, public man wanted to read his poles which would be flown by the results were disappointing, editorials — when the fact is that the politician was merely looking areas. State safety officials will informants agreed on was the request for the conclusions of the study.

The best publicity is that which carries no hint of design or pre-arrangement. Thus an incumbent of 40 or 50 years ago, even with-allowances for the growth of population during that period. Political managers believe that the average voter has tended to become more impervious to their appeals as the publicity campaigns have approached saturation depths over the years. Thus the problem of communication with the voter in the ranks is getting more difficult — and more costly.

The costs of such saturation are worrying some of the thoughtful observers of politics. Currently the political parties of Wisconsin stand on a more even footing in terms of resources, organization and support prospects than they have in decades. Thus there is less quarrelling about the size of the enemy's campaign financing.

But the fact is that the campaign in total have become more expensive, and that there is evidently no real determination on the part of any political leaders to do anything about it. The statutory controls in this state are nominal, for the most part, and they tend to be more restrictive than in most jurisdictions. If a political party or a campaign committee manages it with sophistication, there are no practical limits to the money that can be spent to bend the ear of the electorate. The only thing that is required is to report it.

Safety Experts Recommend Flags For Farm Tractors

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Safety experts at Iowa State University in Ames have designed flags and signs, newspapermen, and others, public man wanted to read his poles which would be flown by the results were disappointing, editorials — when the fact is that the politician was merely looking areas. State safety officials will informants agreed on was the request for the conclusions of the study.

The publicity budgets of today's motorists a chance to see slow-moving farm vehicles before they were right upon them.

Nixon Speaks In Madison On Final Day

miles from the landing field and several thousand were unable to crowd into the cold airport hangar.

Mrs. Nixon drew nearly as much interest and as many cheers as did the Republican White House candidate. Young people carried banners and chanted, "We want Pat."

Nixon smiled broadly when he saw the milling throng, but he confessed that he is weary and that he had only a few hours sleep last night. But he was cheered again when he said he intends to use every remaining hour before the voting in the campaign to persuade the American people that they can have "peace without surrender" through a Republican national administration.

Kuehn on Platform

State Republican candidates stood on the platform with him, and Philip Kuehn, Republican nominee for governor, told the presidential candidate that he expects an "upset" victory in the state election tomorrow.

The vice president tossed away a prepared speech on agricultural policy in which he denounced the Kennedy farm program as a strait jacket for farmers, but he noted a sign in the crowd bearing Henry Ahlgren, University of Wisconsin agricultural college official, for appointment as agriculture secretary in a Nixon cabinet.

He acknowledged Ahlgren's qualities and then remarked that "I don't know whether we ought to wish that onto him."

No Magic Solutions

Nixon said he and Henry Lodge don't have magic solutions for the problems of the world and the country, but that "we don't think that America is second rate in any respect."

The listeners cheered as he declared that "anybody who runs America down should not be elected captain of the team."

Sen. Kennedy is shooting dangerously from the hip, said Nixon as he repeated the charge that his Democratic opponent has changed his position on Cuba, Quemoy and Matsu and other foreign affairs problems.

America and its friends in the world can decide "whether the earth is blown up" or whether the world will have peace, liberty and prosperity, he continued.

It was Nixon's third campaign trip into Wisconsin, all of them brief. This morning he landed at 7:45 and took off at 9:15.

Called by State Leaders

The last moment campaign appeal here was evidently in response to an emergency summons from state Republican headquarters which is not certain about the Nixon-Lodge victory in Wisconsin it had predicted earlier in the season.

The Republican candidate spoke informally and at one point paused to accept a piggy bank from a child in the front row, saying it will probably be the last financial contribution to the most strenuous campaign in history.

Evidently responding to Kennedy's weekend proposal for a massive program of federal loans to students, the Republican candidate proposed in this university community that enterprising parents who send their children to college at their own expense be given tax credit for the effort.

Vandals Leave Wide Trail of Broken Panes

one window in a Stockbridge home was shattered by a steel bearing measuring about a quarter inch in diameter.

There is no firm lead to the identity of the vandals. Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky has been tracking down false leads since the first vandalism was reported. Mrs. Kosmosky said there still are a number of license numbers to be checked out and it is hoped these will lead to arrest of the vandals.

New Holstein and Chilton were the hardest hit. In New Holstein, Police Chief Ted Pagel reported 14 windows broken and more reports coming in. Included in the New Holstein report were five home windows, large show windows, a neon sign and a truck windshield.

In Chilton there have been 11 windows reported broken, including a large double-pane picture window in a home.

Other Calumet County reports have one window broken at Hilbert, two home windows at Stockbridge, one in Sherwood, two in the Elkhart Lake area — both homes — and one in the rural New Holstein area.

Suspect in 3 Slayings Takes His Own Life

GLADE SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—A man charged with three slayings shot and killed himself today as police closed in and flames engulfed his barricaded house.

A deputy sheriff was shot and wounded shortly before Douglas Winfield Graham, 36, took his own life with a rifle shot in the head, ending a more than 10-hour siege of his home in this small Washington County community in southwest Virginia.

Police said they heard a rifle shot in the kitchen of the 1½-story house, and found Graham dead in the smoke-filled and blazing house.

Fire broke out after continued tear gas barrages by the posse of 75 state police troopers and county sheriff's officers.

Youth Killed While Practicing Judo

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A 20-year-old Thiensville youth has been killed in a spill while practicing judo.

James Johnson Jr., son of the vice president of the Boggis-Johnson Electric Co., was injured fatally Saturday at the Milwaukee YMCA.

Johnson fell on the back of his head and neck. Death was believed caused by a severed spinal cord at the base of the skull.

Police and Ambulance attendants work over two victims of a bomb explosion aboard a subway train in New York City Sunday. One girl was killed and 18 persons were injured. The bomb was the fourth planted on recent Sundays.

Kennedy Says Power Alone Deters Reds

the day before election in history.

The Democratic candidate was using the "give 'em hell" style that he began three days ago. Roaring applause and chanted answers indicated that the crowd liked it.

Kennedy said to expand peace and freedom "our country has to go back to work again here in the United States."

There are "no short cuts, no easy way, no overnight weekend meeting which will bring a change in the balance of power in the world," he said.

Says Truth Not Told

In a speech prepared for delivery at Springfield, Kennedy said: "I believe Mr. Nixon's failure to tell the truth to the American people—or perhaps his failure to understand the truth himself—is a clear demonstration of his incapacity to lead this nation through the troubling and hazardous years which lie ahead."

As the zero hour neared, his lieutenants radiated optimism about the outcome of Tuesday's election.

There was an atmosphere in his camp of "it's all over but the tabulating."

Tremendous crowds and near-delirious receptions for Kennedy—even in some Republican strongholds—heightened the impression that the Democratic presidential candidate was ahead as the race came into the stretch drive.

Sees Close Election

Late reports to his headquarters from around the country, along with some polls, appeared to confirm this.

Kennedy was taking no chances.

"This is a close election" he told his audiences. "It may be decided by one or two per cent of the vote in the major states."

His aides are watching closely for last-minute reports from California, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey.

Kennedy planned these moves in the final hours:

1. He prepared to go on television tonight to reply to Nixon after the vice president's four-hour question-and-answer marathon today. Salinger said the channel was not yet certain, but Kennedy would make the appearance some time between 6 and 8 p.m. EST.

Telephone Drive

2. A telephone drive for support. Kennedy's aides said they already have pledged guaranteeing 2,400,000 calls and "more are coming in by the hour."

3. The Democratic National Committee prepared to issue hourly bulletins starting at 3 p.m. EST today to "analyze Nixon's answers" during his telecast.

4. Kennedy started on a whirlwind drive through Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. He closes the campaign in Boston, his home town, with a national telecast starting at 11 p.m. EST from historic Faneuil Hall. His wife, Jacqueline Kennedy, may go before the cameras with him.

Moves Rapidly

Kennedy moved at a furious pace in the closing hours of the campaign.

He was on the road for 18 hours on Saturday and early Sunday morning. He campaigned for 15 hours on Sunday and prepared to go through another 15-hour ordeal before the cameras with him.

"We shall not slumber and we shall not rest until the hour when the decision is before the American people," Kennedy told his audiences again and again.

He was averaging less than five hours sleep and he had talked himself hoarse. Nevertheless, he was still addressing crowds at 2 a.m. during the ceremony.

But somebody got carried away in the process.

Kroll said he was returning the check, which was made out for $1,000.025, in payment of a $25 stipulation.

Educated Thief

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Sikes of Phoenix decided the safest place to hide the $50 she saved was in a seldom used textbook.

While the family was on a Sunday outing, a thief entered the house and stole a stack of books—including the seldom used textbook.

metal about 10 feet long. They were carried aboard trucks.

Also in the military demonstration were "Katusha" anti-personnel rockets, four medium-sized rockets mounted on tanks, and eight 25-foot rockets carried on trailers. The latter were first shown publicly at last year's anniversary parade.

"We do not want to attack anybody," Malinovsky declared.

Ready to Retaliate

"But should our peaceful soil be violated by the imperialists, they will receive a retaliatory blow from which they will never recover."

Malinovsky charged the Soviet "policy of peace" was meeting with "fierce resistance from the aggressive imperialist forces led by the U.S.A."

"In these conditions," he continued, "the Soviet party and government are forced to strengthen the defenses of the Soviet Union and improve its armed forces."

"The armed forces of the U.S.S.R. are boundlessly loyal to the party and people," said the defense minister.

The marshal paid tribute to Khrushchev as "that untiring fighter for peace" and said his participation in the recent U.N. General Assembly session was "an important contribution to the cause of peace."

Civilians Demonstrate

Khrushchev as usual occupied the central place of honor in the reviewing stand on top of the Red Square. Liu was on his left and, surprisingly, retired President Klement Y. Voroshilov was at Khrushchev's right.

As though to emphasize the importance of the Communist bloc's Asian members, Voroshilov had President Ho Chi-minh of North Vietnam on his right.

Following the military parade, well organized civilian demonstrators started pouring through the Red Square by the hundreds of thousands, carrying portraits of Soviet leaders, colorful banners have shown a coolness towards Khrushchev's policy of peaceful co-existence with the capitalist world, masked their ideological differences they might have with Moscow.

any office except president and vice president. Write-in windows above these offices will be covered with a metal plate.

Write-in windows are numbered, corresponding with the offices listed below them.

Lever Locking

Once a write-in window is opened a write-in ballot must be cast, for by opening the window the corresponding levers below are automatically locked. This, too, is to prevent voting for more than one candidate for a single office.

As voters enter the voting booth they will see a red handle. It must be moved from its left-hand position all the way to the right. This closes the curtain and unlocks the machine so levers can be moved.

After voting, and leaving the levers down, the red handle is moved back to the left, registering the vote, moving the levers back up to neutral position and opening the curtain.

A sample ballot showing how candidates' names appear on the voting machines is printed in today's Post-Crescent.

Asks Guinea, Ghana Troops To Withdraw

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Congo President Joseph Kasavubu was flying to New York today to demand that U.N. troops be withdrawn from Guinea and Ghana.

Stopping over in Paris briefly, Kasavubu told a news conference he would demand the withdrawal of all U.N. troops. Then he indicated he would be satisfied with the immediate withdrawal of the soldiers from Guinea and Ghana.

Back Lumumba

Ghana and Guinea are leading a drive in the U.N. Assembly to get the Congo parliament back in session, believing the Parliament will reinstate Soviet-supported Patrice Lumumba as premier of the Congo. Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army commander, ousted Lumumba and suspended parliament in a coup in September supported by Kasavubu. Since then Ghana troops have protected the ex-premier from arrest by the Mobutu-Kasavubu regime.

The U.N. Assembly was scheduled to begin debate on the Congo this afternoon. Kasavubu's plane was due in New York about the time the session was to start. His chief New York representative, Sen. Cyrille Adoula, said he would seek to get the debate postponed 24 to 48 hours so Kasavubu could be on hand for the start.

Gallup Poll Shows Vote for Kennedy

3 Per Cent Undecided May Make Change By Election Day

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The Gallup poll's final nationwide survey of the presidential race shows the following division of the popular vote among likely voters:

Kennedy-Johnson	49 per cent.
Nixon-Lodge	48 per cent.
Undecided	3 per cent.

George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, gave the figures in a copy-righted story under his byline. Gallup also said in part: Considering only those voters who expressed a preference, the division would be: Kennedy-Johnson 51 per cent. Nixon-Lodge 49 per cent. The result of the election tomorrow may lie in the hands of an estimated two million voters who were undecided on their choice as late as Friday night. These results are based upon Interviewing conducted during the period Nov. 1 through Friday, Nov. 4. This final survey, therefore, does not register the impact of President Eisenhower's campaigning in the final days nor the last-minute appeals and efforts on television by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

"Moreover, when candidates are separated by only a few percentage points, readers must take account of sampling errors normally inherent in survey results. "In seven previous Gallup polls reports since the conventions, the lead has changed hands frequently."

Gallup also noted: "As the popular vote totals come in on election night, it should be kept in mind that a candidate who led by only a narrow margin in the large states may actually obtain a substantial majority of the electoral college votes."

He said: "The figures in today's final election report apply solely to the popular vote. For an election poll to estimate the division of the electoral vote it would be necessary to conduct individual surveys in each of the 50 states."

Gallup said the institute's error has averaged between 3 and 4 percentage points during the 25 years since its founding in 1935.

He said the size of the sample used in today's final report is about 8,000 interviews.

No Harm Meant To Kennedy by Men With Guns

CHICAGO (AP)—Detectives say an investigation convinces them two men who told guns when they turned out to greet Sen. John F. Kennedy Friday night had no intent of harming him.

Alejandro Jaime Cruz, 23, and Israel Dabney, 61, went free on $500 bond yesterday, pending hearing on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

They claimed they carried guns while greeting the Democratic presidential candidate for protection from enemies in Chicago.

Cruz was seized 20 feet behind Kennedy's open convertible. Police said they found a loaded .25 caliber automatic in his coat pocket.

Dabney was seized at Chicago Stadium an hour and a half before Kennedy arrived for a rally. A .38 caliber revolver was found in a brown paper sack he carried, officers said. They will appear in municipal court Nov. 15.

Policeman Kills Bandit, Gets Shot in Battle in California Supermarket

ORLAND, Calif. (AP)—A policeman shot and killed a bandit last night and was wounded himself in blazing gunfire in an Orland supermarket.

Sheriff Ben Kranig of Glenn County said the dead man was identified from fingerprints as Roy L. Hassey, Oakland, Calif.

A gang of three holdup men walked into the store and an alarm sounded.

Policeman Lloyd Sawdy surprised the bandits and started shooting it out with one who carried a .16 gauge shotgun. Sawdy was wounded in the thigh before he killed the man.

The two remaining bandits vanished in a car in the northern California area.

Irish Hometown Sends Kennedy Success Wish

NEWROSS, Ireland—A cable went out to Sen. John F. Kennedy from his ancestral Irish hometown today wishing him success in the presidential election.

Kennedy's grandfather emigrated to the new world from County Wexford after the famine of 1850. A third cousin of the senator still works the family farm at Dunganstown, near Newross.

The cable to Kennedy was sent by the harbor commissioners on behalf of Newross residents. Another cable was sent to the Wexford Men's Association in New York saying:

"If Kennedy is elected, victory bandfires will blaze along the Wexford coast."

Clark Gable Resting After Heart Attack

Star Taken Scheduled Hunting Trip

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clark Gable—struck by a heart attack that might have been much worse if he hadn't called off a hunting trip—was resting satisfactorily today.

Gable suffered the attack Sunday at his suburban Encino home and was rushed by ambulance to Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

Doctors and his wife said the quick use of oxygen undoubtedly prevented more serious, or even fatal, damage to his heart.

"It's a miracle," said Kay Gable, expectant mother and fifth wife of the 59-year-old king of the movies. "He had planned a weekend hunting trip at his duck club near Stockton. There are no phones there and it's miles from a doctor."

"On Saturday night he seemed fine, wrestling with my two children all over the living room floor."

"Later he said he felt a little sick and went to bed at 9 p.m. About 4 a.m., he awakened and complained of chest pains. He was perspiring and he felt clammy. I gave him two aspirin."

"At 8:15 a.m., he got up and tried to dress but the pains in his chest were too much. He just sat there helpless. I called the doctor immediately."

The doctor took one look and called a fire department rescue squad and an ambulance.

No Heart Trouble Gable had no history of heart trouble. His wife said he hadn't even had a cold in years.

Friday he wound up a movie with Marilyn Monroe—"The Misfits."

Finesse Try Not Always Best Play

The first law of advanced play is: If a thing can possibly go wrong, it surely will. Keep this in mind when you're considering a finesse.

West opens the 10 of hearts, and you wonder whether or not to finesse the jack. Apply the first law, and you'll stop wondering. If you play dummy's jack of hearts, East will cover with the queen. One of your high hearts is knocked out then or at the next trick. West gains the lead with one ace and sets up the rest of his hearts. He gains the lead with his other ace and defeats you with the rest of the hearts.

Mind you, there would be no trouble if West had the queen of hearts or if the hearts broke 4-3 instead of 5-2. You might even land on your feet if the aces were split. The trouble is that everything goes wrong.

Take With Ace
See how things work out if you postpone the heart finesse. Play low from the dummy at the first trick, and win in your hand with the ace.

Lead one of the minor suits to force out an ace. West leads another heart.

This time you can afford to finesse. If the finesse wins, you haven't lost anything by postponing the finesse. If it loses, and the suit breaks 4-3, you will lose only two hearts and two aces.

The big advantage comes when the finesse loses to a blank queen. East cannot continue the suit after winning with the queen. This gives you time to force out the other ace, since dummy's king of hearts will remain to stop the suit.

In short, the delayed finesse protects you against the worst break without any cost.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

WEDDINGS FOR FATHER AND DAUGHTER:

I am to be married to a widower whose daughter's wedding takes place two weeks before ours.

Davis
ance's brother?

Louise Davis Answers:

At the time of the daughter's wedding, you still will be officially a non member of the family, and therefore a guest (a very special one, of course). Therefore, there is no reason why you should expect to sit with the family unless, they ask you to do so. Otherwise, it would be simpler for you to attend with one of your friends and the ushers might be briefed to seat you in a pew behind the family. Yes, it would be logical that the bride's grandmother assume the role of hostess. She would be seated in the first pew and your fiancée would join her after he gives the bride away.

CARDS TO NEW PARENTS:

When a mother is in the hospital with a new baby and when friends send congratulatory cards in care of the hospital, how are the envelopes addressed? Should they be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Brown and baby or just to Mrs. Brown and baby?

Louise Davis Answers:

Since these messages are usually meant for both mother and father, I suggest that the envelopes be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Brown in care of such and such a hospital. Mail may be addressed to the residence instead of the hospital. This would avoid forwarding mail from the hospital after the mother has been discharged. There is no point in writing "and baby" on the envelope.

Defected Chinese Pianist Engaged

LONDON (AP)—Fou Ts'ong, gifted young concert pianist who defected from Communist China, is engaged to marry Zamira Menuhin, daughter of violinist Yehudi Menuhin.
The engagement was announced Monday in the Times of London. The date of the wedding was not announced.
Fou's parents live in Shanghai. He came over to the west from Poland, where he studied at Warsaw Conservatory. Since then he has been giving concerts in western Europe and getting excellent reviews.
Miss Menuhin is the violinist's daughter by his first marriage. Her mother, Mrs. William Hawthorne, lives in The Bahamas. Her father lives much of the time in England.

Your Problems

Readers Give Views, Opinions On How to Handle Thief

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR READERS: I am not prepared to haul out the wet noodle just yet, but I've had so much intelligent opposition to some recent advice, I feel obliged to print the dissenting point of view.

The original letter was from an employee who saw a foreman stealing crates of merchandise from the factory in which he worked. The employee's wife told him to mind his own business and keep his mouth shut. He said he felt disloyal to his boss—knowing what was going on, and not having the courage to report it.

I advised him to "put his mouth up where his principles were." I told him to go to the foreman, let him know he had been seen stealing, and to make it clear if it happened again, he'd be reported to the management.

This is what the mail has been like:

Dear Ann Landers: I used to believe in high principles, too, but they are too costly for working people.
I was employed in a department store. I knew a certain woman was stealing—first small items, then larger ones. She reported them as "shoplifted." I told her if she didn't stop I would go to the boss.

She went to the boss first and reported me as a trouble-maker with a wild imagination. In fact she made me sound like a nut. As a result I was demoted. She is now the boss' assistant. At my age I can't change jobs and start over. So I just play deaf, dumb and blind, and anyone who wants to back up a truck and empty the store can do it, for all I care.—ZYX.

DEAR ANN: I go along with you 99 per cent of the time, but on that foreman letter you goofed. Do you know what a foreman can do to an employee? I do, because it happened to me. My foreman was stealing wallets and jewelry and I caught him red-handed. I told him to give back the stuff or else. He said "You didn't see anything, Bud."

The next week I had all the dirty jobs in the plant. Two weeks later I got a notice from upstairs that my work was inferior, and one month later I was canned.—Little Joey

P. S. The foreman is still there. Dear Ann Landers: Sorry I don't agree that the man who witnessed stealing should inform the fellow that if he doesn't stop it he'll tell. Smart guys keep their traps hut. Heroism is for jerks. Listen to my story:

I worked in a large office handling cash deposits. I became aware that one fellow was not putting through slips on all the money that he was taking in. I was sure he was pocketing about $50 a day. I went to the boss. The boss really told me off.

He said all his employees were honest. The next week I found out what the racket really was. This employee was holding out cash every day and giving it to the boss. In this way the boss didn't have to report it as income, and therefore did not pay taxes on it. Of course the employee came in for a small split.

I've decided there are so many lousy crooks in this world that an honest guy is a freak.—Smarter Now for an employee to do when he catches a fellow-worker stealing is not to tell the thief—but to inform management, so a check can be up on him. Then when the thief is caught, he's caught by management, and no one else need be involved.—Mr. D.

DEAR ANN: The wisest thing

Chamber Ensemble Leaves Tonic Effect

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN
Only those who have traveled far and tasted diligently along the road in the world of music can truly savor the delicacy of a chamber ensemble. A long apprenticeship in the obvious arts is required before the gourmet's palate develops: chamber music stands at the end of the line — the counterpart of snails, artichokes, truffles, espresso and vintage wines.

There are many in Appleton who have listened long enough to be ranked as musical gourmets (there was a healthy household of them in Harper Hall of Lawrence Music-Drama Center last evening), and there are even a handful of local residents who rank as genuine chamber artists (as the playing of violinist Kenneth Byler, pianist Barbara Byler and cellist Frances Clarke Kehl proved magnificently in the same event).

Play as Team
They are a team who have obviously engaged in rigorous training in togetherness. They move as complementary parts in a marvelously-precisely machine, but a machine lifted out of a mechanical category since it is touched with a living flame. The pinnacle of the evening came with Schubert's 30 minutes

Facts About Acne

With an attack of acne, a teen appears within a few years. But lovely deserves understanding and help. This unsightly problem comes at an age when appearance is of enormous concern to a girl—at a period when it is only normal for her to try the wings of her charm.

Very often a girl finds acne less of a disaster when its causes and course are better understood. Marked by oiliness, blackheads and lesions, acne is due to glandular disorders associated with growth. It is not dangerous, but if not properly treated, is aggravated by improper diet, lack of sleep and nervous tension. Usually, the condition disappears within a few years. But medical treatment helps to clear it sooner and keep it under control. At the first signs of acne, therefore, hurry to your doctor. Then be fanatical about following his instructions.

Not troubled with acne, teens would find a safeguard for the skin in these home-care methods: Cleanse face at least three times daily with either a lather of soap or an antiseptic lotion-wash; massage it in with fingertips; rinse and dry gently, but thoroughly.

Never apply powder without first applying a suitable base. Never go to bed without patting on a cream or lotion that will improve your skin or at least keep it out of harm's way. There are many products and kits made especially for teens.

Be temperate about sweets and fats. Get plenty of sleep, exercise and fresh air.

Hints for Sleeves

The way a sleeve is set-in can make the difference between a beautiful garment or a sloppy one. I'm sure you've often seen sleeves with little tucks around the cap — tucks that weren't meant to be there.

Here is an uncomplicated method of setting in sleeves which has always been successful with me.

First, a few warnings. a) Basting is absolutely necessary — no ifs, ands or buts; b) a press mit or tailor's ham will make it much easier to press a rounded shoulder; c) never trim the cap of a sleeve. It is always larger than the armhole so that the cap will fit easily over the shoulder. Extra fullness is necessary for good fit and comfort and the extra-extra fullness is taken out, as you will see when you read on.

Make two rows of basting stitches, by machine or hand, around the cap with one row about 1-16 inch within seam allowance and the second row 1/4 inch from the first (fig. 1). Pull underneath basting threads and gather cap just a little. Pin sleeve to armhole, holding inside of sleeve toward you, and match notches, shoulder seams and underarm seams. Place pins as illustrated in figure 2. Adjust gathers from notch to 1/2 inch of shoulder seam, on front and back (fig. 2).

When sleeve fits perfectly, baste sleeve to armhole. Remove pins and try garment on to check shoulder fit. Then, using steam iron, steam press gathers with a tailor's ham or press mit as padding. Use tip of iron with lots of steam and barely touch the fabric.

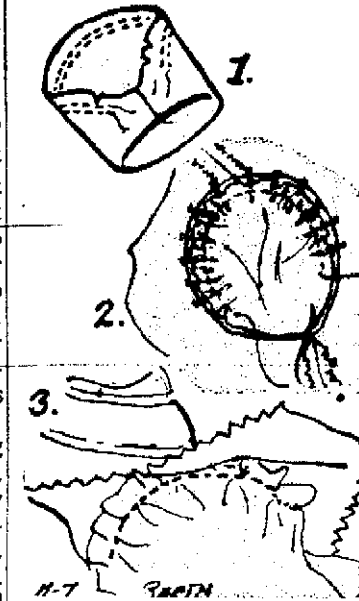

It's a good idea to use a press cloth, too (fig. 3). Never place iron flat on sleeve or you'll get a sharp rather than rounded shoulder line. Steam press until you shrink as much of the gathering as possible. By the way, this doesn't usually work too well with synthetic fabrics.

With synthetics, my only suggestion is to choose patterns with sleeves other than the set-in type or one with shirring at the cap.

Before machine-stitching, place four or five pins across the seam line as you did before basting to line up the seam. Machine-stitch slowly so you can turn the sleeve easily as you sew and to keep the stitching line from wiggling.

without leaving ridges or press marks. Press seam toward sleeve. Seam is pressed toward neckline only when it is gathered and very full.
Run a second row of stitching about 1/4 inch from the first row. To finish raw edges, either pink the edges or trim seams about 1/4 inch from second row of stitching and overcast over both edges. If making an unlined jacket, bind the armhole using bias seam binding to match fabric.

If the owners can't afford to feed the animal, they should give it to someone who can. If there are no funds for medical attention, I'm sure the local Humane Society will arrange for treatment with a clinic or local veterinarian. It's possible the neglect is not willful; your neighbors may be unaware of proper animal care. I know you're torn between helping the dog and minding your own business, but I'd suggest you try talking with the people. If you accomplish nothing, report the case to the Humane Association or a peace officer.

Relative of African Violet Gets New Name, Purple Jessie

BY KATHERINE B. WALKER

Some months ago I noticed an are maroon beneath, and the other upright - growing, purple-leaved plant in several pot-plant displays. Every time I asked what it was, I got the usual shrug of the shoulders from the clerks.

Which means "I don't know and catalog this year: Lipstick Vine (eschynanthus var., and with a name like that, it didn't take long for someone to think up an easier one; Smiths (smithianas) and columneas are being offered in ever increasing variety. With both the tuberous and the fibrous-rooted members of this family becoming popular so rapidly, it would be fun for you to be one of the first to have the new ones, so study your catalogs, and try whichever plants appeal to you.

I hope I live to see the day when not one plant will be offered for sale anywhere without an identifying label, but I know it's a vain hope. I finally bought one, took it home, and subsequently identified it as a plant that I had on my plants-wanted list. It is Nautilocalyx Lynchii, one of the lesser-known relatives of the African violet and episcia. Since it doesn't seem to have any common name yet, and certainly needs one, let's call it Purple Jessie, shall we? The "Jessie" received, instead, the one called being short for gesneriad, of course.

First, do keep this plant on a pebble-tray with the water touch- ing the pot base. Purple Jessie collapses very suddenly if it gets too dry, and it will use lots of water, so give it a constant supply. Furnish this Jessie with warm place and very bright light but no direct sunlight.

Elegant Display Like other fibrous-rooted gesneriads it wants rich, humusy soil. Because of its glossy, highly-colored leaves, this is an elegant plant for display in the living room. It will enjoy the warmth and subdued light there, and its unusual foliage is bound to bring admiring comments from visitors.

Two other varieties of nautilocalyx are easily obtained by mail-

Questions and Answers

Q. What is the difference between a rhizome and a tuber?

A. A tuber is the thickened portion of an underground stem; a rhizome is a creeping rootstock, which may or may not be under the soil.

Q. I was told that Rosary-vine was ceropegia, but when I ordered one, it had oval, pointed leaves instead of heart-shaped ones such as I expected. The pattern on the leaves is about the same though. Is this the Rosary-vine and if not, what is it?

A. There are several varieties of ceropegia. The one you want needs one, let's call it Purple Jessie, shall we? The "Jessie" received, instead, the one called being short for gesneriad, of course.

Q. Some time ago, you wrote about a giant star-flower. Can you tell me where to get one?

A. The California source for this has been checked, and our Source Sheet is on its way to you. You can expect flowers up to 16 inches across on this, even though the plant is small.

Q. How much water do calla lilies begonias need?

A. They should be grown on the dry side. Allow the surface of the soil to become quite dry, then soak thoroughly.

Q. What is the plant called Mother-fern?

A. This is Asplenium Bulbiferum. It is called Mother-fern because the plantlets are produced on the upper surfaces of the fronds.

Q. How do plants get their common names?

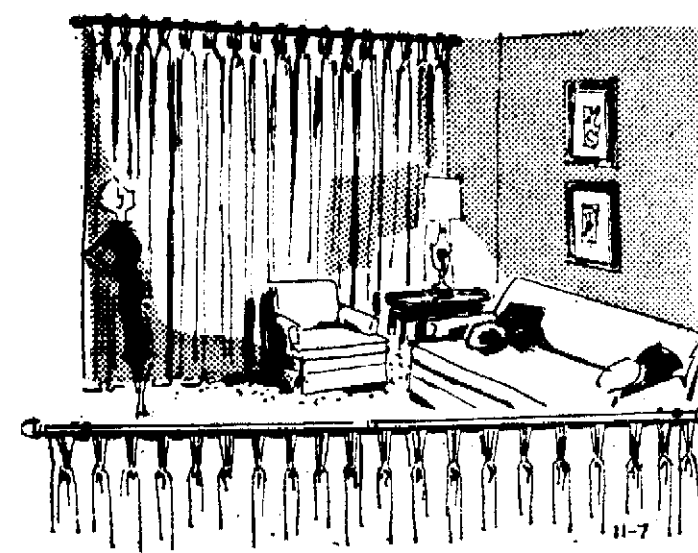

A. The same way Purple Jessie got its name, simply by someone giving it to the plant. Sometimes, four or five common names will be given to the same plant. Usually only one or two receive wide usage, and eventually the others are forgotten. It is always nice if the common name indicates something special about the plant that no other plant has, but too often they are merely fanciful.

Q. Is it bad luck to grow Wandering Jew?

A. How in the world could any plant bring luck, either good or bad? I don't know where this bit of superstition originated but let's all get rid of it. Wandering Jew is a lovely plant to grow, and one of my all-time favorites.

New Traverse Rod Decorates

No matter how fancy window treatments become with every trend-making model room, nothing topples the popularity of the traverse rod. It's the easy handler of the situation through changing demands for light air and privacy, the smooth operator that makes curtains work, not just hang there. And if it's a fancy touch can stop directing them from behind the scenes. The newest traverse rod is a striking brass top-off decoration.

This new decorative rod swings a pair of curtains as usual away from center and back again, or can be rigged to draw to the right or the left. But its round look is deceiving—the rod is actually flat, in back and slotted for the insertion of the slides and cord. With plain slides, a curtain mysteriously has no visible means of support. Special ring slides are so constructed that the rings don't touch the round surfaces of the rod, and thus can't drag weight on it or scratch it.

Miss G. McA. "The furniture for my large bedroom is light gray, almost white, and I have bronze-green spreads and draperies in a lighter shade of the same color. What color should I paint the walls, and what do you suggest for the color of alternate pairs of spreads and draperies?"

Yellow is a good choice for the walls, in a shade strong enough to contrast with the bronze-green, but not necessarily bright. Then the second set of spreads and draperies could be a complete change in a pattern sparked by yellow - orange or bittersweet shades. However, you don't mention a floor color, which should influence a decision.

Singler Charges Link Between GOP, Big Business

Milo Singler, Democratic candidate for Eighth District congressional seat, charged Sunday that the Republican August 1960 campaign by 12 wealthy families totaled more than all labor organizations gave to the Democratic campaign.

Speaking at a meeting of young Democratic workers at the headquarters, Singler said "Big business is bankrolling the Republican party and has been reaping the benefits of every dollar invested by the present administration."

Other factors were dissatisfaction by farmers and working men party workers at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cherkasky, 59 Bellaire court, city, he claimed.

Lawrence Says Candidates Think People Can be Fooled

Kennedy TV Spot Example of Misrepresentation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — If somehow a vote could be taken whereby every man with a good education and a good background in governmental affairs were asked to say on a secret ballot whether he would ever wish to be President of the United States, the chances are that the verdict would be overwhelmingly negative.

Lawrence

While many men would naturally wish to serve their country in any capacity that would be helpful, they would not wish to gain the presidency at the cost of a loss of self-respect or at the price of a troubled conscience. They wouldn't want to have any part of the current type of presidential campaign and the kind of appeal which supposedly must be made to gain votes.

There are candidates who will say anything, promise anything, do anything to win an election whether it is in local or national politics. The word "politician" has come to be used to describe a person who is adroit, ingenious, tricky, and ambiguous — one who can promise all things to all people.

People Can be Fooled

But is the "politician" the only one at fault? He could not succeed in winning elections unless, after sizing up his constituency, he came to the conclusion that the people could be fooled. There is scant comfort in Lincoln's famous epigram that "you can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all of the time." But why should the people be fooled at any time? Are they so gullible? Don't they understand the simple facts of government?

Instances in varying degrees of misrepresentation and demagoguery can be found on both sides, but there is one incident that stands out as an example of how far the saying that "politics is politics" has caused us to veer from our moorings.

It happened on television in one of those five-minute "spots" between shows about two weeks ago.

Sen. Kennedy appeared with an elderly man and his wife who live in Newport, Ky. The discussion was about medical care for the aged — a proper issue, of course. It seems that the man had broken his hip last February in an accident and that the total medical bill was $619.00. Sen. Kennedy deplored this in the television broadcast and gave the impression to millions of people in the audience that the retired man had to pay it all. Before the show began to be taped for broadcast, the elderly man told Mr. Kennedy that he had had the protection of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, but the Massachusetts senator is reported to have remarked, "We will not say anything about that now."

Show Repeated

A sworn affidavit by Dr. Howard Schriver, former president of the academy of medicine in Cincinnati, Ohio, says the elderly man told it to him in those very words. Also, the affidavit says that Blue Shield had been provided, but that the major part of the medical bill was thus covered, and that the man who broke his hip religious beliefs and religious had to pay the relatively small balance of $146. He would have paid only $63 if he had not chosen a semiprivate room at the hospital but he was able to afford it.

This story was widely published last week but not a word of comment about it in reply has come as yet from Sen. Kennedy, who at this writing is confidently expected by many people to become the President of the United States.

Was he misled by publicity men or shown men who thought that anything goes in politics? Why was the same show repeated on television?

Water Resource Unit May be Sidetracked

Pool-Crossed Madison Bureau

MADISON, Wis.—The idea of a new and centralized state water resources agency, once endorsed by a legislative study committee for recommendation to the state legislature, may yet be sidetracked, according to developments at a committee meeting here.

The committee after several hours of discussion indicated that the Kennedy campaign managers despite the criticism?

Many people will shrug their shoulders and brush off that incident as not important and will rationalize that that's the way to get votes and that "all's fair in politics."

But is it? There has been much talk about the so-called "religious issue" in the current campaign. But there is one kind of religious protection by Blue Cross and Blue Shield had been provided, but that the major part of the medical bill was thus covered, and that the man who broke his hip religious beliefs and religious had to pay the relatively small balance of $146. He would have paid only $63 if he had not chosen a semiprivate room at the hospital but he was able to afford it.

Asked For New Board

Earlier the study committee headed by R. E. Garrow of New London, a private citizen, filed a long report which struck at the multiplicity of present public agencies in the water resources management field and explicitly asked for the creation of a new state water resources board to direct a comprehensive state program of water protection under a concept of multiple use rights.

The transfer to the Carley division was suggested by Prof. Jacob Beuscher of the University of Wisconsin, a volunteer consultant of the study group.

Somewhat surprisingly it was backed by Assemblyman Hugh Harper of Grant county, a veteran member of the Republican bloc in the legislature which has regarded Carley with considerable respect as one of the key lieutenants of Democratic Gov. Nelson.

The committee finally decided to

Board, Taxpayers Collide on Funds

Contingency Fund, as Usual, Provides Bone of Contention

Two philosophies of tax money and county government collided this morning as the Outagamie County Board began its 1961 budget hearing.

The Appleton Taxpayers Association, which has been following the county budget for three years turned up with its recommendations, including—as usual—a criticism of the county's contingent fund. The County Board—also as usual—defended the fund on the basis of the county needing liquid funds.

However, the taxpayers, through Gregory Schule, board of directors member, stated that apparently no one ever knew just how much the county had. The contingency fund, and several other reserve funds, are shown on the books as money, but that doesn't mean it is in cash, Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer pointed out.

County Banker
"I suppose you realize," Fulcer told Schule, "that the county acts as banker for the state of Wisconsin and its own member municipalities."

"We didn't until we got into the budget this year, at least just how much of a banker the county is," Schule explained. He added that the taxpayers would like to make a study of the county's cash position.

The county in a sense finances state activities such as the buying of right-of-way for U.S. 41. The county pays property owners for their land, then is reimbursed by the state. At one time the county had about $250,000 invested in right-of-way and the state was three or four months behind in payments, Fulcer pointed out.

Too Large
The taxpayers agreed that the county needs liquid capital, but feel that a contingency fund of some $300,000 is too large. Schule said: "Let's let the fund run down to $130,000 or so and see if you have to borrow money," he suggested.

If the past is any guide at all, the County Board will ignore the suggestion.

The board's opening debate on the $1,498,000 levy—slightly over this year's—was strictly between the taxpayers and the county's Budget Committee. The rest of the County Board never deviates from its budget committee philosophy—a large contingent fund which is not considered as surplus. The taxpayers consider the fund surplus, which makes the two positions diametrically opposed.

Fair Money
The board in a rush after the long taxpayer debate, passed a resolution incorporating $10,000 for the Outagamie County Fair Association into the budget. The association asked for $15,000. The Agriculture Committee cut it to $12,500, then cut it some more for presentation to the board this morning.

The primary use of the money will be for grandstand repairs. Part of the Agriculture Committee's suggestion was for a study over the next year for the county to buy a physical plant of the association, operate the fair through the county agricultural office and perhaps hire an operator for the annual event.

The fair association has been in financial trouble for years and the county has in a sense underwritten its capital financing and its deficits. There is a feeling on the board that the private corporation should be eliminated and the fair be made a county government function.

Youths Admit Breaking Into Tavern, Car Arrested as They Stop to Partake of Liquor, Snacks

GREEN BAY — Young people who allegedly broke into a Town of Hobart tavern early Sunday morning were captured soon afterward when they stopped along a rural road to partake of some of their loot.

Being questioned this morning after admitting entering the White Eagle Tavern, Highway 54, were Ronald Skenandore, 20, route 2, West De Pere, a 17-year-old boy from the same area, and Thomas Brunette, 19, and De Wayne Hammer, 20, both of Milwaukee. Skenandore's sister, Geraldine, 19, who was driving Brunette's car when they were picked up near De Pere, admitted possession of stolen property but denied participation in the break-in.

The 17-year-old was not in the car but was implicated later. Boy's Father Jailed
The youngster's father was put in Outagamie County Jail for scuffling with Brown County Sheriff Artley Skenandore when the sheriff tried to arrest the boy at his home.

The group stole liquor, potato chips, candy, pop corn and about $50 in change from the tavern. The four boys also confessed to breaking into the car of Romy Dostator, route 1, Oneida, and taking a spare tire and wheel and a bag of baseball equipment, the sheriff said.

Edward Zeh Killed, Wife Injured in Crash; 15 Die in State Over Weekend

An Appleton man was killed in a collision on Highway 47 and his wife was seriously injured Saturday morning when their car apparently went through a stop sign and collided with a gravel truck.

Edward S. Zeh, 80, of 1926 Maplecrest Drive died at 7:35 p.m. Saturday and his wife is in fair condition today as the result of the collision at 9:56 a.m. Saturday at Foster Street and Highway 47.

Witnesses said Zeh was going west on Foster Street and failed to stop for a stop sign. His auto collided with a gravel truck going east on 47 driven by Leslie George Sitzberger, 18, route 2, Menasha.

15 Killed During Weekend
Zeh received a possible broken neck and back and Mrs. Zeh received a skull fracture and broken nose. They were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Lindy's ambulance.

Zeh's death is the 18th traffic fatality this year in Winnebago County, compared to 14 during the same period last year. Eighteen is two more than the 1959 county highway death toll.

Fifteen people were killed on state highways over the weekend, raising the state highway death toll to 738, compared with 686 on this date a year ago. Five died Sunday and 10 were killed Saturday.

Robert Hinz, 23, of Route 4 Waukesha was killed Sunday night when his car struck a tree just east of Waukesha on Highway 59. Michael Zpla, 59, Chicago, died at an Elkhorn hospital Sunday afternoon a few hours after he was

UW Extension Getting New Madison Home

Headquarters for Rambling Business To Go to New Site

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Alma mater to thousands who never reached a college campus, the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin has been assured of an elaborate new central home here. University of Wisconsin regents have authorized soliciting of construction bids for an eight floor structure on the edge of the growing campus here which will house the many activities of the division which supervises off-campus work of all kinds.

The division is best known for its correspondence courses which have enrolled tens of thousands of students over the years.

The first unit of the structure will cost $1,675,000. It is being designed to permit expansion later.

The extension division also is the sponsor of hundreds of institutes, short courses and conferences that are held each year at the Wisconsin Center, a block distant from the new administrative center site.

Extension has 39 divisions, now scattered widely over the campus as a result of the outgrowing of the older quarters at the far end of the campus.

Palooka Back on Comic Page Because of Reader Demand

Joe Palooka that fighting champion of the comic strips, is back in the Post-Crescent again.

The comic strip was dropped last week in favor of a new one. It was a mistake. Post-Crescent readers weren't happy about the change. Every day brought a barrage of telephone calls. The editor received a high stack of mail.

"Where was Joe Palooka?", readers asked—young fry and oldsters alike.

The answer today is that Ham Fisher's popular character is right back where he belongs—on the comic page.

So, to catch up on what happened last week to Hero Joe and his cohorts, here is a run-down of what was missed.

Background Story
Last Monday, the Toggs Cycle Wing completed its unmanned flight test with great success. But there lurks a spy in the offing: a newspaperman.

ing to the overwhelming acclaim who says he is looking for a feature story. He finds out that Joe is strip character and the inventor's daughter plan to go up in the cycle-wing.

So off he goes to the hangar in the middle of the night, not knowing that Dr. Vale lives in the hangar laboratory just to guard his invention. Warned by a special electric-eye buzzer, Dr. Vale surprises the intruder. But the older man is no match for the spy, who knocks Dr. Vale down, steals the plans and escapes.

It is Joe Palooka who figures out that someone must have followed them out to the laboratory. Then he goes in all comes out that "Doll" Mercedes, the bogus writer, must be that man.

Just as Joe decides to do a little checking on Mercedes, the spy ed last week to Hero Joe and his cohorts, here is a run-down of what was missed.

Commissar, Dr. Vale's man-powered flight plans will be in your hands in 24 hours.

Today's comic strip goes on from here with the editor's bowman posing as a newspaperman

Hospital Fund Drive Begins

Leaflet Informs Industry of Persons Treated Since 1955

KAUKAUNA — As the drive for funds for the proposed addition to Kaukauna Community Hospital swings into high gear, E. H. Jennings, drive chairman, has sent a leaflet to area industries informing them of the number of patients treated at the hospital since opening in 1955.

Industry is being called on to raise the bulk of the $200,000 goal. The leaflet states 11,882 patients from families connected with area employees have been admitted. Thilmany leads with 5,552 patients treated followed by Kimberly-Clark with 1,397 and Combined Locks with 1,259.

Also listed are 258 from Badger-Northland, 585 from Giddings and Lewis, 466 from the City of Kaukauna, and 203 from Marathon. Farming area patients amounted to 1,090. Altogether, 45 area businesses and industries are incorporated in the list.

Money Collected

The hospital had $75,000 surplus to start off the drive and within the first week $10,400 was pledged by business, industry and individuals. Pledges are made for a 1, 2 or 3-year period. Thilmany management has pledged $1,600 while Roloff Manufacturing has pledged $1,000 and the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers has promised $500.

The United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union has pledged $200, Badger Northland announced $6,100 as its industrial contribution and the Kaukauna Elks have pledged $1,000.

Auxiliary Plans

The Hospital Auxiliary has adopted a "baskets of gratitude" project to aid the building fund. With Mrs. Carl Runte and Mrs. John Russo as co-chairmen, 17 members will prepare a basket which will contain a bank and some home-made item such as baked goods, canned goods, flowers or other item.

Each will pass the basket to another member who will take the item from the basket, put a contribution in the bank, replace the item removed with some other article and in turn pass it to another member. Baskets are not to be kept longer than two days to permit speedy completion of the project.

To Your Good Health

Added Weight Increases Any Painful Condition of Feet

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D. quite common for a man in the 40s or 50s to notice, if he lets his beard grow (as on a hunting trip) that due to a quick of pigmentation the whiskers are gray while hair and/or eyebrows retain their color.

Dr. Molner

"Dear Dr. Molner: I feel that my foot pains are abnormal for a woman of 21. I am expecting now, although I have had sore feet for years. But now I fear that various veins may develop, since there seems to be a tendency toward them in my family. My veins are quite large and close to the surface on my legs. Is there anything that can be done?—Mrs. A. C."

Sore feet is not the same as foot pains in the sense of cramps. You say that you have had sore feet for years. It isn't normal to have sore feet when you are young. Something was wrong, perhaps some fault in the bone structure, a weak arch, or the like, which threw your weight on to the wrong places and hence caused the soreness.

In such a case, it is certainly not surprising that your added weight, because of pregnancy, has intensified your discomfort.

There are not too many cases of painful feet which cannot be relieved, especially if you have something done about them while you are young. Remember that the foot is a complicated structure, so it is impossible for me to guess, from a letter, what may be the precise trouble.

There is, young mother-to-be, only one sound course for you to take. Ask your physician to seek the cause. Or, if you are going to an obstetrician, rather than a general physician, he may refer you to a specialist in foot problems. Since you have had this trouble for so long, I suggest that you get help right away.

As to varicose veins, avoidance of anything that constricts the veins (round garters, etc., or a girdle that puts too much pressure on veins higher up) is a basic precaution.

Take occasion to lie down, or even sit down, but with your feet up on a chair or hassock, several times a day, is also recommended. It doesn't have to be for long periods. Ten minutes at a time will give the veins a chance to relieve the pressure that builds up, and hence minimize the chance of their becoming varicose.

If — and your doctor can readily judge this — still more vigorous measures are needed, he may specify the use of elastic hosiery or elastic bandages for the time being, to give support to the veins. Since this problem is present in your family, you are wise to take notice now, rather than to wait until the problem becomes serious.

For both foot strain or pain, and to avoid varicose veins, don't forget the cardinal rule: Keep your weight down!

Mustache White

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could you explain why facial hairs, such as a mustache, have a tendency to turn white while the eyebrows and hair remain brown?—C.W."

No, I can't explain, because I don't know. Sometimes it's the other way round, although it's

Vitamin Deficiency Rare If Person Has Adequate Diet

CHICAGO — Vitamin deficiency in persons able to follow an adequate diet is "comparatively rare," the Journal of the American Medical Association said today.

An editorial in the current (Nov. 5) J.A.M.A. re-emphasized the A.M.A. position that "all the nutrients essential to the maintenance of health in the normal individual are supplied by an adequate diet."

Self-administration of vitamins "reflects the hazards of self-medication," the editorial said.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE GENERAL, PRESIDENTIAL AND REFERENDUM ELECTIONS NOVEMBER 8, 1960

STATE OF WISCONSIN }
OUTAGAMIE COUNTY } SS

Office of the County Clerk

TO THE ELECTORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY:

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election is to be held in the several Towns, Wards, Villages, and Election Precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 8th day of November, 1960, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below:

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

A voter may vote for an entire group of candidates for presidential electors by making a cross (X) or mark in the square opposite the names of candidates for president and vice president for whose electors he desires to vote.

A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any other one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter, and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot.

final-period scoring marches of 55 and 52 yards. It was the Vikes' fourth straight road defeat and fifth loss in seven games, overall.

Carleton, which finished the first quarter on the Vike 1-yard line, punched across its first score on the initial play of the second period. Halfback John Lundsten climaxed the 10-play, 68-yard march. Keying the drive were passes of 15, 12 and 16 yards. The extra-point kick failed.

Later in the quarter, the Carls moved 65 yards in 11 plays. The scoring maneuver was a 6-yard pass, quarterback Phil Bredine to end Larry Jones. Again, the kick was wide.

Comes to Life

Lawrence, which failed to get out of its own territory in the first half, came to life, offensively, in the third quarter after tackle Dan Brink recovered a Knight fumble on the Carleton 47. The Vikes scored in six plays.

Schulze, who saw more action than he has at any other time since his knee injury of the second game of the season, fired the payoff pitch to Lammers, whose end play was again outstanding. Lammers caught it inside the 5 and romped over. Schulze made it 12-7.

Carleton returned the subsequent kickoff to its own 48, then went the remaining distance in 11 ground plays. With the fourth quarter only 1:07 old, Bredine sneaked over from the 1. Walt Andrews place-kicked the extra point.

Midway in the last stanza, Carleton intercepted a pass on the Knight 48 and went all the way in seven plays. Jones caught his second scoring pass from 12 yards out with 4:15 left. Andrews again converted.

Steve Dickinson, 165-pound junior halfback failed to add to his MC scoring lead but had the best rushing day of his 2-season career. He rambled for 179 yards in 32 carries.

Fullback Fred Florn led Lawrence with 27 yards in 11 tries.

Tom Brown Is Star

Bierman Compares Gopher Line To Great Forward Walls of Past

MINNEAPOLIS—The immovable object didn't move. Mammoth Minnesota moved down Iowa Saturday by applying a simple football principle: Nobody is fast enough to beat you if he's lying flat on his back.

This is where the Hawkeyes' sprinters spent most of the afternoon in a 27-10 Minnesota victory that was the supreme triumph of the Gophers' destructive line.

It is a line that was compared today by such a knowledgeable judge as Bernie Bierman, the old master, with Minnesota's great lines of the past, some of the best college football has produced.

"It's in a class with some of those old Minnesota combinations," said Bierman. "It's active, big, strong and plays smart football."

Gopher coach Murray Warmath didn't see Bierman's great lines, but he and Bernie joined on this point: If there is a better college lineman in the country than Minnesota's 240-pound ex-Navy policeman, Tom Brown, neither has seen him.

Brown's contribution Saturday rushes went over his guard position was enormous. Almost single-handed he knocked out nearly one-third of the Iowa offensive line, its inside shots that so often had opened the way for long-run knockout blows.

Blunt Speed

With ends Tom Hall, Bob Deagan and Dick Larson, and line-backers Julian Hook and Dick for their first national title in 1959, he blunted the Iowans' out-side speed. On offense better than 50 per cent of Minnesota's best declined to speculate on how the

Minnesota, Missouri '11's' Return to Glory After a Long Wait

Unbeaten Tigers Down Colorado, Meet Sonners Next

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world of college football today belongs to Minnesota's resurgent Golden Gophers and their oft-maligned coach, Murray Warmath. They hope they can hold onto it a bit longer than some of the other kinglys this season.

A half-step away is a fighting band of Missouri Tigers, whose "glory days" go far back to 1941, the same time Bernie Bierman and the Golden Gophers were the strong men of college football.

The Gophers and Warmath climaxed 19 years of "coming back" Saturday when they upped their season record to 7-0 by beating Iowa's unbeaten Hawkeyes.

The Gophers don't dare relax. Defending national champion Syracuse, Mississippi and Iowa all held the kingly spot at one time or another this year. Each had the crown snatched rudely away. A Minnesota victory over Purdue will assure the Gophers at least a tie for the Big Ten title.

Missouri has voted strictly on a conference agreement in the past, they said. This time the school would be voting on an invitation extended specifically to one institution, namely, Minnesota.

But there is nothing hazy about the Gophers' Big Ten title prospects. They can clinch at least a tie by beating Purdue Saturday and grab it all with victories over Purdue and Wisconsin.

Monday, November 7, 1960 Appletown Post-Crescent B9

this week. Washington, ranked seventh before beating Southern California 34-0, can nail down a spot to defend its Rose Bowl title by beating California and winning the Big Five crown.

Duke, whose 19-10 victory over previously unbeaten Navy was a surprise Saturday, can gain at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest. Yale, one of the nation's unbeaten with a 7-0 mark after whipping Penn 34-9, plays Princeton in what will probably be the Ivy League title game. Both are 5-0 in loop play. Each has two games left.

Ranked Sixth

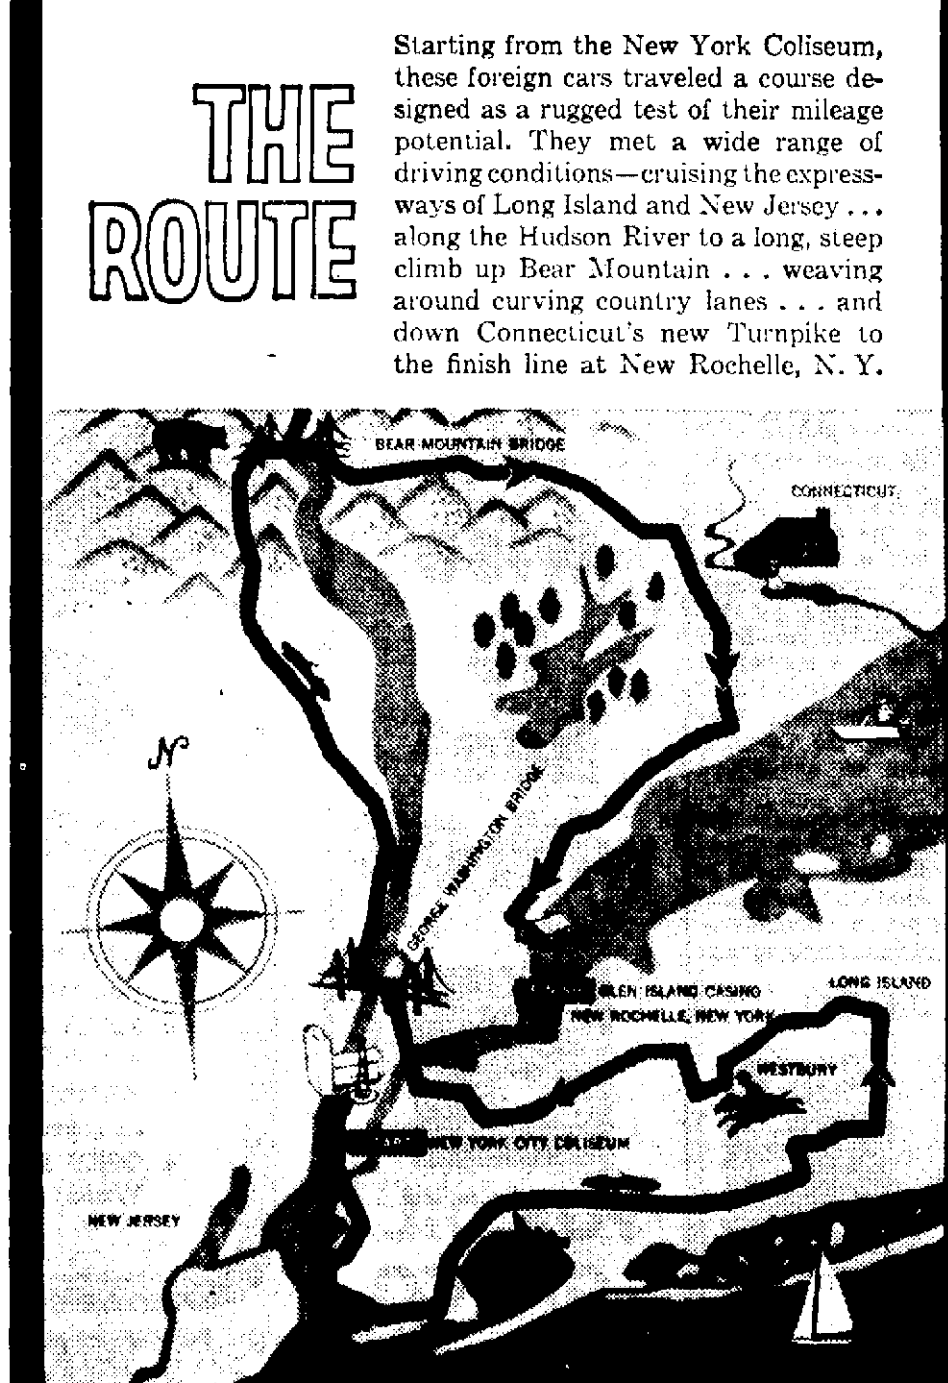

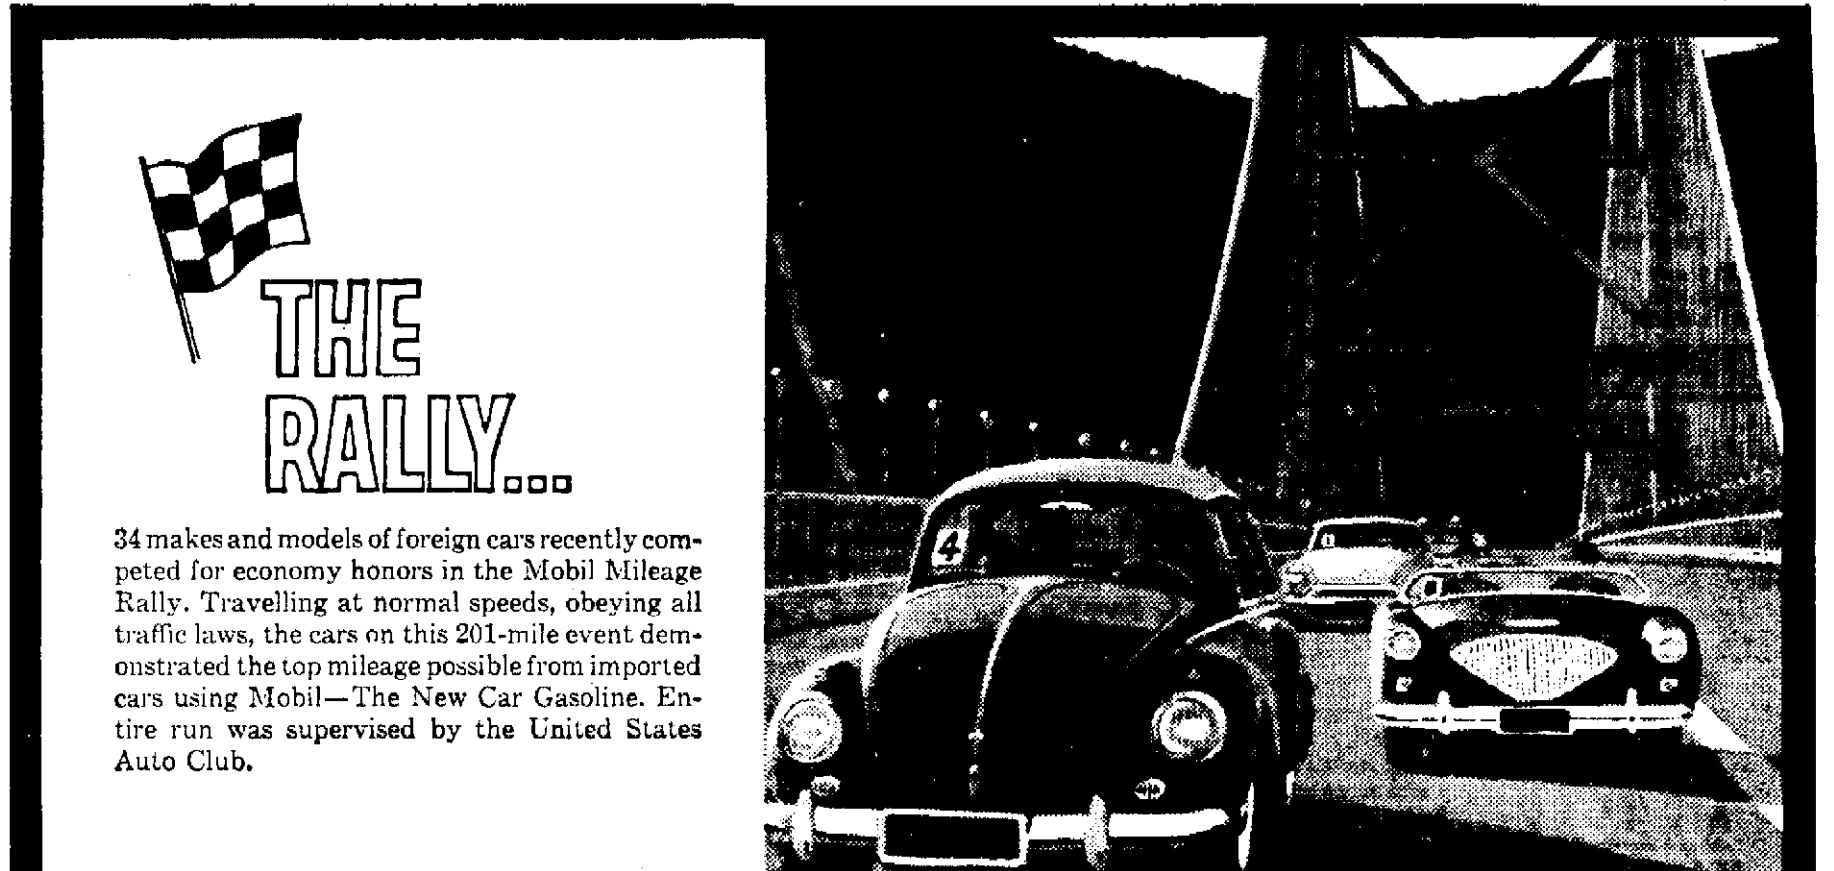

Mississippi, ranked sixth, tries to keep its Southeastern Conference lead against Tennessee. The eight-ranked Vols were upset 14-7 by Georgia Tech and were kept from tying Ole Miss for the SEC lead. Mississippi was out of the conference beating Chattanooga 45-0, Auburn and Florida both 4-1, are right behind.

Syracuse, ranked ninth, saw its hopes for a national title go up in smoke when Army handed it a 9-6 licking. It was the second straight loss after a 16-game victory streak.

The only other unbeaten in action, Utah State (8-0), took first place in the Skyline Conference with a 17-13 victory over Wyoming. New Mexico State (7-0) was idle.

Notre Dame's football fortunes ebbed still lower when Pitt handed the Irish a record-making sixth straight loss, 29-13. The Irish have won once and have three games remaining. Auburn's Ed Dyer set a national season record when he kicked his eighth and ninth field goals and tied a career mark of 13 against Mississippi State. The Auburn fullback scored 21 points, adding on a pair of TDs and kicking 3 extra points in a 27-12 victory.

The respective leaders of the two divisions of the American Football League meet next Sunday in what promises to be the highlight game of the day.

Houston, which is dominating the Eastern Division with a 6-2 record, takes on Los Angeles (5-3) at Los Angeles, and the Oilers loom as favorites because of their consistently strong offense that has rolled up a total of 246 points. Los Angeles has a slight edge in defense, yielding only 162 points in its eight games.

Houston gave another impressive demonstration of its power Sunday when it defeated Denver 45-25, thanks to the passing of George Blanda and the running of Billy Cannon and Dave Smith.

Blanda threw four touchdown passes as the Oilers completed 17 of 34 for 256 yards. The Houston running attack accounted for 191 yards. The Denver attack netted only 91 yards on the ground, but was good for 402 yards via air through completion of 31 of 54 tosses.

Houston margin at the half was only 17-15.

Blanda personally accounted for nine points to run his season total to 84, tops in the league.

Dallas edged back into contention in the Western Division with a convincing 45-28 victory over the Buffalo Bills. The Texans blew the game wide open in the third period with three touchdowns.

The running of Abner Haynes and the passing of Cotton Davidson highlighted the Texans' attack. Haynes scored three touchdowns, two of them on passes, from Davidson. Tommy O'Connell sparked the Bills' belated fourth-period rally which brought two touchdowns.

Those were the only two AFL games played Sunday. Last Friday Los Angeles defeated New York 21-7 and Boston edged Oakland 34-28.

Ghosts Edge Truckers, Win Clear Title

Bill Jirikovic recovered for Kaukauna, setting up the first score. Fred Steger broke off tackle on the first play for the touchdown. The try for point was wide.

Play moved back and forth between the 30-yard stripes for the remainder of the first period and the majority of the second. With a little over two minutes remaining, the Truckers took over on their own 31-yard line.

Huebner Connects

Behind hard running by Huebner, John Hedtke and Phil Middleton, the losers moved to a first down on the 11-yard line. Two running plays lost yardage and a penalty moved the ball back to the 19 with 39 seconds remaining. With fourth and 18 needed for a first down, Huebner faded back and lofted a pass to Dick Hedtke who took the ball just before going out of the end zone to tie the count. The extra point try was low as the Ghosts rushed the kicker.

The Truckers threatened in the third period after a roughing-the-kicker penalty hurt the Ghosts but were unable to keep up a head of steam against the determined Kaukauna defense. Kaukauna, too, managed to move well in the period, but bogged down at critical points. In the fourth period, with about four minutes remaining, the Ghosts halted a Clintonville drive on the Kaukauna 15-yard stripe.

Pitch-outs to Bruce Bay and Fred Steger, used consistently throughout the season, were used rarely by Kaukauna for this contest. Most of the ground game consisted of slants into the line and the team used 11 passes, high for a game this year.

Truckers Move

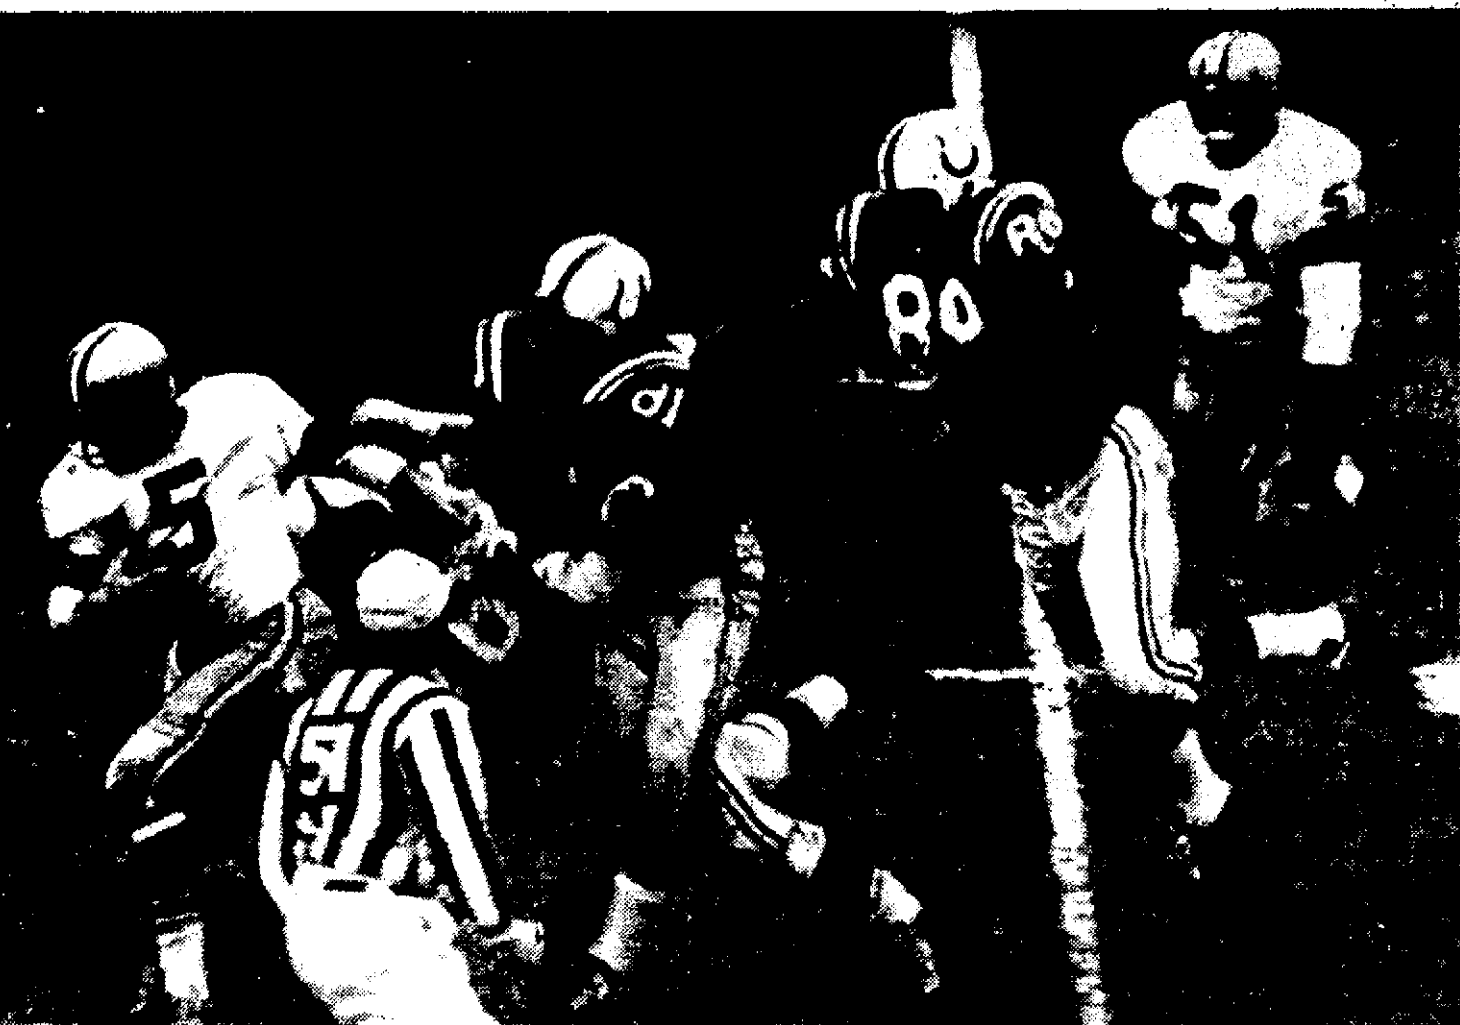

The Truckers moved well on end sweeps and keepers by Doug Huebner, but their passing attack lacked punch, although their lone score came on a fourth down pass, late in the first half.

Kaukauna ran up 242 yards, 122 of them by air while the Truckers managed 164 yards, 41 by air. Clintonville was assessed 55 yards in penalties, several coming at crucial times when it appeared the team was on the march. Delay of game was frequently called on the Truckers as they seemed to be using a long count before each play.

The Ghosts kicked off to Clintonville and the Truckers began to march. Two first downs were racked up before the drive was halted and Kaukauna took over on its own 48. The winners marched, down field, but hindered by 25 yards in penalties, the drive was halted on the 4-yard stripe.

After an exchange of punts, Kaukauna began its 65-yard march for the winning tally. After the pay-off pitch to Kavanaugh, Bill Nussbaum who was back to try the extra point, scooped up the football when the holder fumbled the pass from center and attempted to run for the extra point, but was stopped short.

Clintonville took to the airways in the closing minute, but Kaukauna defended perfectly and took over the ball deep in Clintonville territory and ran out the clock. Kaukauna did not punt in the first half, gambling for precious yards on fourth down deep

Packer Halfback Paul Hornung (5) breaks away from the arms of Baltimore tackle Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb near midfield and runs for a 20-yard gain into Baltimore territory Sunday. Colt end Ordell

Badgers Flat, Says Bruhn

Wildcats Get Partial Revenge for '59 Loss by Manhandling UW, 21-0

BY DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

MADISON (AP) — The Northwestern football Wildcats quietly nursed a vengeful spirit for a year. Then they salved wounded pride by manhandling Wisconsin on the Badgers' Homecoming Day.

Northwestern, which had a six-game winning streak snapped by Wisconsin in 1959, ground out a 21-0 victory at Camp Randall Saturday as the Badgers lost their last slim chance to retain the Big Ten title.

"Wisconsin is the team that really killed us last year in the game that just about decided the Rose Bowl," Northwestern coach Asa Partridge recalled. "I wish there was some way we could trade them this one for that one."

Partisan Crowd

Performing before a partisan crowd of 61,730, the Badgers were helpless against the fired-up Wildcats. Wisconsin managed to net only 15 yards by rushing and its vaunted passing attack was bottled up except for a few completions late in the game.

"I'm glad that one's over," said Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn with a sigh of relief. "We were just flat. I had visions of the score being up there in the 40s."

Bruhn's statement echoed the thoughts of Wisconsin fans. They had little to cheer about as the Badgers were mauled—and crippled—by the Wildcats who posted their first official conference victory in four outings.

Northwestern struck for three first half touchdowns on marches of 83, 46 and 66 yards. The Wildcats fumbled away the ball the first time they had possession. But they went the distance the next three times they gained control.

The Badgers managed to hang on grimly in the second half and prevented the Wildcats from running up the count. However, Partridge mercifully employed all reserves.

Were Demoralized

Bruhn said that his charges were demoralized entering the game because of the loss of end Pat Richter, a great pass receiver out for the year with a broken collarbone, and the ineffectiveness of quarterback Ron Miller, hobfield goal with a 63-yard heave to Gail Cogdill as San Francisco (3-4) was shut out for the first time since 1955. Nick Pietrosante's 27-yard run and Terry Barr's 18-yard scamper accounted for the Lions' other points.

3 in a Row

St. Louis (4-3) made it three in a row as John Crow scored on runs of 45 and 30 yards and John Roach connected with Sonny Randle on touchdown pass plays of 14, 7 and 3 yards. The Cards checked the Washington (1-3-2) defense except in the third quarter when Dick James carried over from the 3 for a Redskins touchdown.

Winless Dallas (0-7) took an early lead on the first of Fred Cone's two field goals, but a 61-yard touchdown pitch from Frank Ryan to Jim Phillips put the Rams (2-4-1) ahead to stay. Ryan also hit Phillips with a five-yard TD pass while Joe Marconi sped 5 and 75 yards for scores. Walt Kowalczyk tallied the Cowboys' only touchdown on an 11-yard sprint.

Jim Ninowski opened the scoring for Detroit (2-4) by throwing a 55-yard touchdown aerial to Dan Lewis late in the second quarter. He then set up a Jim Martin year. Then they salved wounded pride by manhandling Wisconsin on the Badgers' Homecoming Day.

Partisan Crowd

Performing before a partisan crowd of 61,730, the Badgers were helpless against the fired-up Wildcats. Wisconsin managed to net only 15 yards by rushing and its vaunted passing attack was bottled up except for a few completions late in the game.

"I'm glad that one's over," said Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn with a sigh of relief. "We were just flat. I had visions of the score being up there in the 40s."

Bruhn's statement echoed the thoughts of Wisconsin fans. They had little to cheer about as the Badgers were mauled—and crippled—by the Wildcats who posted their first official conference victory in four outings.

Northwestern struck for three first half touchdowns on marches of 83, 46 and 66 yards. The Wildcats fumbled away the ball the first time they had possession. But they went the distance the next three times they gained control.

The Badgers managed to hang on grimly in the second half and prevented the Wildcats from running up the count. However, Partridge mercifully employed all reserves.

Were Demoralized

Bruhn said that his charges were demoralized entering the game because of the loss of end Pat Richter, a great pass receiver out for the year with a broken collarbone, and the ineffectiveness of quarterback Ron Miller, hobfield goal with a 63-yard heave to Gail Cogdill as San Francisco (3-4) was shut out for the first time since 1955. Nick Pietrosante's 27-yard run and Terry Barr's 18-yard scamper accounted for the Lions' other points.

3 in a Row

St. Louis (4-3) made it three in a row as John Crow scored on runs of 45 and 30 yards and John Roach connected with Sonny Randle on touchdown pass plays of 14, 7 and 3 yards. The Cards checked the Washington (1-3-2) defense except in the third quarter when Dick James carried over from the 3 for a Redskins touchdown.

Winless Dallas (0-7) took an early lead on the first of Fred Cone's two field goals, but a 61-yard touchdown pitch from Frank Ryan to Jim Phillips put the Rams (2-4-1) ahead to stay. Ryan also hit Phillips with a five-yard TD pass while Joe Marconi sped 5 and 75 yards for scores. Walt Kowalczyk tallied the Cowboys' only touchdown on an 11-yard sprint.

Northwestern, which had a six-game winning streak snapped by Wisconsin in 1959, ground out a 21-0 victory at Camp Randall Saturday as the Badgers lost their last slim chance to retain the Big Ten title.

"Wisconsin is the team that really killed us last year in the game that just about decided the Rose Bowl," Northwestern coach Asa Partridge recalled. "I wish there was some way we could trade them this one for that one."

Colts Down Packers, 38-24, to Take Lead yards and threw one pass for 16 yards.

Jim Taylor, who picked up 56 yards in 20 trips, scored the first Packer TD just before the half on a four-yard blast for 21-7. Hornung's 10-yard jaunt made it 21-14 early in the second half. On successive series, Hornung cracked two yards for 24-21 and then kicked a 21-yard field goal to tie the score at 24-up.

Other than the passes to Berry who got "by" with the long reception, and eight to Lenny Moore who was stopped safely away from the end zone, the Colts were simmered down to 95 yards, rushing and two pass catches by Hawkins for 50 yards.

37 Rushing Plays

Starr called 37 rushing plays, with Taylor getting 20 rides for 56 yards and Hornung 99 on 17. Bart had four intercepted—the last one setting up the Colts' last TD from the Bay 13. Taylor led the Bays in receiving with six catches while Boyd Dowler, Hornung and Gary Knafele each had five and Max McGee three.

The Packers controlled the show, what with 71 plays against the Colts' 56. The Bays rushed 38 times against the Colts' 26 and threw 33 passes—four more than the Colts.

It appeared that Starr would take the Bays home after the opening kickoff. On the second play Hornung ran beautifully for 31 yards to the Colt 46. Starr's pass to Knafele for 18 and a throw to Taylor for 7 to the 17 had the Bays threatening but three plays later Starr's throw aimed at Knafele was intercepted by Davis.

The Colts then moved 89 yards in 11 plays for the first TD. Unitas threw to Berry for the last 45 yards. Berry took it on the 10 behind Wood and galloped in. Myrha kicked the first of five extra points for 7-0.

Tom Moore returned the next kickoff and fumbled in mid-air on the Packer 24 and Myrha recovered. The Colts took quick advantage.

Tom Bettis and Willie Davis tossed Unitas back 10 yards in two yard pass to Moore in the right plays and the Colts were holding, setting the ball on the 50. Unitas hurled Unitas back a yard, handed off to Hawkins who went wide and lateraled back to Unitas. John threw over Wood's head to for a 31-24 score.

Hawkins who was brought down on the one. Two plays later Unitas threw to Hawkins for the TD and a 14-0 lead.

Four First Downs

The Bays strung together four first downs on another drive. Hornung tried a field goal from the 32. The boot was blocked by Sample.

Pesonen tried his hand at guarding Berry and it was a tough baptism for the Duluth star who was converted to a defensive back earlier in the season. The Colts went 70 in five plays. From the 21, Unitas threw to Berry for the TD and a 21-0 score.

Green Bay finally broke the ice, moving 47 yards in six plays. After running plays gained five, Starr pitched to McGee for 42 yards on two straight passes to the eight. Taylor then rammed the last four for the TD. It was Bays' 3.

Second TD

An interception by Bill Forester set up the Packers' second TD early in the second half. Bill grabbed Unitas' throw on the 45 and returned four yards to the 41. The Bay had a TD in four plays. The big gainer was a short flip to Taylor who picked up 20 to the 31. Hornung, with Jerry Kramer throwing a good block, cracked to the left into the end zone and into the stands, from the opening kickoff. On the second 10. That made it 21-14. Later, play Hornung ran beautifully for 31 yards to the Colt 46. Starr's pass to Knafele for 18 and a throw to Taylor for 7 to the 17 had the Bays threatening but three plays later Starr's throw aimed at Knafele was intercepted by Davis.

The Colts then moved 89 yards in 11 plays for the first TD. Unitas threw to Berry for the last 45 yards. Berry took it on the 10 behind Wood and galloped in. Myrha kicked the first of five extra points for 7-0.

Tom Moore returned the next kickoff and fumbled in mid-air on the Packer 24 and Myrha recovered. The Colts took quick advantage.

Tom Bettis and Willie Davis tossed Unitas back 10 yards in two yard pass to Moore in the right plays and the Colts were holding, setting the ball on the 50. Unitas hurled Unitas back a yard, handed off to Hawkins who went wide and lateraled back to Unitas. John threw over Wood's head to for a 31-24 score.

The tough Packers made the Colts fumble again and Starr went to work, throwing seven straight passes. Hornung made a field goal from the 21 to tie the score.

Later, with a foot to go on fourth down, Unitas crossed over "reason" and it worked for a 24-tossed Unitas back 10 yards in two yard pass to Moore in the right plays and the Colts were holding, setting the ball on the 50. the afternoon in the opposition backfield and the junior—who wound up his eligibility in the game—had a fumble recovery. Dennis Garvey and Larry Feistel each recovered a fumble and were vicious tacklers. Jon Hohman had another one of his steady, valuable efforts.

Drive 78 Yards
The hosts drove 78 yards in five plays to their first score. Brock gained 15 yards to the Terror 37, Kafura skirted end for 6 and then Brock hit off tackle for seven to the 50. Brock drove into the middle for two to the Manty 48 and then Bloomer found Kafura with a short screen pass near the losers' 40. Pete picked up a beautiful block by Gendron on the visitors' 25 and went all the way. John Manier's first of two conversions made it 7-0 with 5:36 to go in the half.

Bill Hopkins recovered for the hosts on Manty's 30 when the losers fumbled the kickoff. Hiep-pas carried the ball five straight times, the fifth for a touchdown, but a 15-yard penalty nullified the score and gave Appleton the ball on the 16. From there Bloomer and Gendron combined their talents at 1:46 for a 14-0 lead.

Was Hero
Al Zipperer, was the big hero in the march. The Manty star, who was held to just eight net yards in seven carries for the game, passed once for 16 yards, caught a Paul Buege aerial for 11 yards, and ran for 12 stripes to the winners' 6 on the drive. After a couple of line thrusts found the visitors on their own 10, Zipperer connected with Jerry Thompson for the score. Buege, who missed only one extra point all season, drop-kicked for a 14-7 deficit with 1:10 left in the period. The losers never again threatened.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

St. Olaf Cinches Tie for Title

Beats Monmouth, Ripon Nudges Knox, 13 to 12

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Olaf is assured at least a tie for the championship in the Midwest Conference football conference.

The Minnesota team defeated Monmouth 36-12 Saturday to give it a 6-1 record in the conference and now has only Lawrence to meet to wind up the season. The second place Carleton team has a 5-2 mark in the circuit.

Carleton defeated Lawrence 26-7 at Northfield Saturday. In other Midwest games Ripon defeated Knox 13-12. Coe won from Beloit 26-7, and Cornell beat Grinnell 25-15.

An 11-yard pass in the closing minutes gave Ripon its victory over Knox. The pass was from Marv Carlson to Jerry Semrod.

Knox scored in the first period on a 41-yard run by quarterback Gordon Stagg but Ripon went ahead 7-6 after marching 65 yards in the second quarter. George Sievers went over from the 1 for the touchdown and a kick of Tom Corrigan added the extra point.

Knox regained the lead late in the second period when John Sulphen intercepted a Ripon pass and raced 10 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Keith Rusher scored twice and passed for another touchdown to lead Coe to its victory over Beloit. Rusher ran 67 yards for his first score and added another on a sneak. Bart Thiel scored on a five-yard run and Ron Kozemczak took Rushers pass for a five yard touchdown. Rusher kicked two extra points.

Beloit clicked on a 90 - yard spree, set up by a pass play from Jim Kupic to Dick Van Scotler in the fourth quarter for its only score.

Unitas' Fourth-and-One Pass Gamble Pays Off in Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chances of the Baltimore Colts for an unprecedented third straight National Football League championship are still very much alive today—in great measure due to the gambling nerve of quarterback John Unitas.

Less than a yard away from a first down on fourth down, Unitas went for the long gain and cashed in for a late fourth period touchdown that broke a 24-24 tie with Green Bay Sunday. The Colts then scored again and won 38-24.

"There are only two people in football who would make that work, Unitas and Coach Weeb Ewbank," said Coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers.

"I have to put Ewbank in it, he must have had something to do with the play."

However, Ewbank said he had left it up to his quarterback.

"I told John to either sneak or pass," he claimed. "It was his choice, not mine."

Standing Up

It was a choice that had the crowd of 57,808 standing up because it sensed this could be the key play for the Colts, not only of the game but perhaps of the season.

The Colts had the ball on the Packer 38 with the score tied 24-24 and time fast running out. Unitas disdained a safe run for the first down and passed to end Raymond Berry on the Packer 8. Berry caught it, but was out of bounds.

Weyauwega was led by Irv Miller and Ron Behn, who placed fifth and eighth, respectively.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN, that on said Eighth day of November, A.D., 1960, the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, having been approved by two successive legislatures, will be submitted to a vote of the people pursuant to law:

(Jt. Res. No. 53, S.)

Deposited July 14, 1959.

No. 32, 1959
A JOINT RESOLUTION

To amend article XI, section 3, of the constitution, relating to the debt limitation of counties having a population of 500,000 or over.

WHEREAS, at the general session of the legislature in the year 1957 an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the 2 houses, which amendment read as follows:

"(Article XI) Section 3. Cities and villages organized pursuant to state law are hereby empowered, to determine their local affairs and government, subject only to this constitution and to such enactments of the legislature of state-wide concern as shall with uniformity effect every city or every village. The method of such determination shall be prescribed by the legislature. No county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to any amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained, other than for school districts . . . and counties having a population of 500,000 or over, by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness and for school districts and counties having a population of 500,000 or over by the value of such property as equalized for state purposes; except that for any city which is authorized to issue bonds for school purposes the total indebtedness of such city shall not exceed in the aggregate eight per centum of the value of such property as equalized for state purposes; the manner and method of determining such equalization for state purposes to be provided by the legislature. Any county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall, before or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same; except that when such indebtedness is incurred in the acquisition of lands by cities, or by counties having a population of one hundred fifty thousand or over, for public, municipal purposes, or for the permanent improvement thereof, the city or county incurring the same shall, before or at the time of so doing, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within a period not exceeding fifty years from the time of contracting the same. Providing, that an indebtedness created for the purpose of purchasing, acquiring, leasing, constructing, extending, adding to, improving, conducting, controlling, operating or managing a public utility of a town, village or city, and secured solely by the property or income of such public utility, and whereby no municipal liability is created, shall not be considered an indebtedness of such town, village or city, and shall not be included in arriving at such five or eight per centum debt limitation."

Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing amendment to the constitution is agreed to by this legislature; and, be it further

Resolved, That the foregoing proposed amendment be submitted to a vote of the people at the election to be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, 1960, and if a majority of the voters voting thereon approve this amendment, it shall become a part of the constitution of the state; and, be it further

Resolved, That the question of the ratification of the foregoing amendment be stated on the ballot as follows:

"Shall section 3 of article XI of the constitution be amended so that the limitation on the indebtedness of counties having a population of 500,000 or over shall be based on the value of the taxable property in such county as equalized for state purposes rather than on the local assessed value of such property, the method of determining equalized value for state purposes to be provided by the legislature?"

EXPLANATION

Effect of ratification. The debt limitation now provided for all counties is 5% of the last local assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county. If approved by a majority of the votes cast, this amendment will change the debt limitation of counties having a population of 500,000 or more to 5% of the value of the taxable property in such county as equalized for state purposes. The manner and method for determining such equalized value are to be provided by the legislature. The debt limitation for all other counties will remain unchanged.

GIVEN under my hand and official seal, at the Court House in the City of Appleton, this 12th day of October, A.D., 1960.

Jury Finds Youth Guilty

Milwaukee Faces Mandatory Sentence Of Life Imprisonment

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Leroy Pinkowski, 19-year-old machine hand, was convicted of first degree murder Sunday in the stabbing of a 14-year-old girl. Pinkowski, who admitted the stabbing because he had "an overpowering urge to stab a woman," faces a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment.

Pinkowski was convicted of stabbing Dianna Mae Zibolsky of Milwaukee with a letter opener while they sat on a bench in a suburban West Allis Park Aug. 31. The youth admitted the stabbing, but pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. He testified he had "an overpowering urge to stab a woman," but did not intend to kill.

READ THIS BEFORE YOU VOTE!

Tomorrow we pick a President, to represent all of us for four years. He will represent us to all the world. He will represent us here at home.

We had better pick the best possible man:

- ★ He should know what he's talking about.
- ★ He should be honest and straightforward.
- ★ He should be respected at home and abroad.
- ★ He should be well informed on all problems.
- ★ He should know what's best for America.
- ★ He should have demonstrated that he has more than a campaign interest in national problems.

Does the Democratic candidate, Kennedy, qualify? Is he the man?

NO!

HE DOES NOT QUALIFY. PROOF CAN BE SEEN IN HIS SENATE RECORD, AS FOLLOWS:

- He criticizes the Administration on African affairs. Yet he is the Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on African Affairs, and did not call a single meeting of his subcommittee all session!
- He says DISARMAMENT demands top priority. He has had his chance to do something on that, too, as a member of the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee. yet his colleague Hubert Humphrey announced in August that Kennedy has not attended a single meeting of this committee!
- He poses as a great friend of THE RETIRED AND AGED making great promises to them. And he is a member of the Senate Subcommittee on this matter. Yet he attended not even one of the 20 sessions of this committee, including one in Boston, his home town.
- He poses as a friend of labor, and as CHAIRMAN of the Senate Subcommittee on Labor, has had his chance to prove it. Yet he attended only ONE of FOUR hearings HIS COMMITTEE held.

The Democratic candidate TALKS BETTER THAN HE HAS PRODUCED! Can YOU trust such a man to represent you in Washington?

WHAT ABOUT DICK NIXON?

- ★ He has for eight years been Ike's right hand man. He has visited all the major countries of the world and met personally many of their leaders. Ike acknowledges his great contributions to America's knowledge of world problems.
- ★ His party has responsibly moved to help the retired where they can best be fairly helped — at the state level.
- ★ His leadership brought a settlement of this year's costly and unfortunate steel strike.

He is the

Forecast 45,000 Vote Total for County Tuesday

First Time in Years for Complete Party Tickets

OSHKOSH — More than 42,000 voters are expected to go to the polls Tuesday and the number might even go as high as 45,000 ballots in Winnebago County.

Winnebago County voters for the first time in many years will have a choice for every office on the ballot, from president to surveyor.

In several past elections there would be only one or two posts for which a candidate was listed on the Democratic ticket.

The highest vote total in recent years was the 1952 presidential election when close to 42,000 votes were cast. The population increase since then and the intense interest in the election leads some to think that the vote might go over the 45,000 mark.

Board Member Resigns Town Menasha Post

George Strohmeyer
Quits in Protest;
Cites Election

MENASHA — George R. Strohmeyer, route 3, Neenah, member of the town of Menasha board since 1957, today announced his resignation from the board as a protest measure. He also is health officer for the east side of the township.

Strohmeyer, in his letter of resignation to Amos Page, town chairman, cited irregularities of operation, particularly with elections.

He said a substitute election worker for the Sept. 13 election, appointed by Earl Hesselman, town clerk, was not named from the alternate list. He also said an unauthorized person, not a member of the election board was allowed to count ballots. He said they closed Sept. 13 and was allowed to county ballots. He said two others at the polls were told to leave.

He also said a town board member in the past drew wages for a full day on the election board although he didn't report until after noon. Strohmeyer said that had been rectified after he "put up enough opposition" after being named to the board in 1957.

Strohmeyer also maintained $32 was charged for holding a special town meeting to act on a liquor license transfer while the charge should have been $24 since he was out of town and not present at the town meeting.

The town board member, in his letter of resignation, also took Chairman Page to task for keeping newspaper reporters away from town board meetings. He said, "Invite visitors and reporters in. Let the taxpayers know how you get your decisions."

Museum Shows Private Collection

BY MARION DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
NEENAH — A silversmith, painter and collector of objets d'art is Mrs. E. K. Nielsen, 2210 Gmeiner Road, Appleton. Her private collection is currently on exhibit at the Bergstrom Art Center.

The exhibit includes a Picasso drawing, 10 Piranesi prints, a Corinthian bowl, many Chinese art objects, a jade lozenge, a Tang bronze mirror and horse, circa 618 and 907 A.D., as well as an original etching by Albrecht Durer and two glass portraits made by Durer in 1523 and 1524.

Mrs. Nielsen's collection of icons is well known, and approximately 24 of these are in the current exhibit at the museum. She also gives lectures on icons, but, as this is a highly specialized field and icons are expensive and hard to find, few people can make collections of them. This is a fascinating exhibit and one which is not often obtained by museums.

Orthodox Churches
Icons are used in Greek and Russian orthodox churches, a branch of the Catholic church. These religious panels are used in all their churches and consist of panel paintings of the Madonna, Christ, the apostles and lesser saints, as well as illustrating Bible stories. These are of interest not only to collectors and art students, but students of the Bible as well.

This collection includes only extremely old icons. All of Mrs. Nielsen's collection have the Byzantine faces.

"In 1951, when I went to England, there was a great deal of war loot available, as well as the collections of refugee Russians for sale. I was lucky enough to get some of these from Prince Galitzine." Mrs. Nielsen has made three trips to Europe to add to her collection. Her last trip was to Greece and the Aegean islands.

Mrs. Nielsen became interested in art and collecting when she was collecting too. My enthusiasm has rubbed off on our son to such an extent that he went back to school after two years of business and studied museum administration at Harvard. He is presently curator of the Delgado Museum of Art in New Orleans."

Mrs. Nielsen makes pieces of jewelry to order in her workshop in her home. She uses mostly silver "because gold is terribly expensive" and makes one piece of a kind, which she or the customer design. She is also interested in oil painting, but considers herself an amateur in this field. She is a member of Wisconsin Designer Craftsman, American Council of Craftsman and the Midwest Council of Craftsman.

New Routes for Menasha burnable materials collections will go into effect this week. Health Officer H. O. Haugh announced. Burnables will be picked up Mondays and Thursdays in routes 1-A, 2-A and 3-A, and on Tuesdays and Fridays in the "B" districts. Non-burnable waste materials will be collected Wednesdays in the present districts, but on a double schedule.

Menasha Alters Collection Route for Combustibles

MENASHA — A major change in garbage and combustible waste materials pickup will go into effect next week in Menasha, Health Officer H. O. Haugh said today. Beginning Wednesday, pickups of non-burnables also will be changed. This week non-burnable rubbish will be collected in the present districts 3 and 4, from north of Third Street to the city limits. On Nov. 16, rubbish will be picked up in District 1 and 2, from Nicolet Boulevard to Third Street. The new burnable material routes are labeled 1-A, 2-A and 3-A, to be served Mondays and Thursdays, and 1-B, 2-B and 3-B, serviced Tuesdays and Fridays. Haugh emphasized that many streets in Menasha will have their garbage collection days changed, as shown on the accompanying map.

Highway Crews Begin Work on County Airport

OSHKOSH — Highway department earth movers began work this morning on the extension of the north-south runway at the Winnebago County Airport. The county board last week appropriated $30,000 to extend the runway 360 feet at the south end. A turnaround also will be added to permit planes to warm up their motors. The earth movers will excavate to a depth of 13 inches and this will be backfilled with a stone base and given a calcium chloride coating. Next spring the surface will be blacktopped. The highway department estimates the runway work will take about a week. The runway extension will enable planes to increase their capacity by 2,600 pounds on south bound takeoffs and 16,000 pounds on northbound takeoffs. The capacity is reduced for northbound takeoffs because the planes fly over a residential area upon taking off from the airport.

Miller was found lying on the ground. He received multiple lacerations of the face and head, requiring seven stitches.

Rockets Roll Past Menasha High 42-7

Neenah Scores the First 5 Times It Has the Ball in Notching 5th Straight Win

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — A Smooth-working Neenah Eleven scored the first five times it had the ball (and once when it didn't) to batter Menasha into submission, 42-7, on a frosty Saturday afternoon at Butte des Morts field.

The victory, Neenah's fifth straight, gave it a 6-2 record for the year and second place in the Mid-Eastern conference. The Rockets lost a chance to tie for the crown when Kaukauna dumped Clintonville Saturday night.

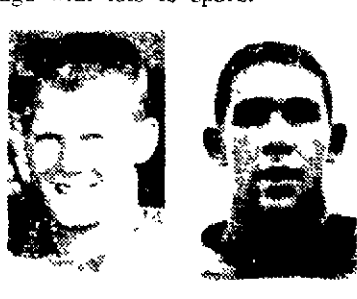

For the Jays, the loss left them with a 2-6 record, disappointing, especially for the seniors, many of whom just two years ago helped bring the school a championship. It marked the first time this fall that a team tallied more than two touchdowns on the Menasha defense.

The Rockets in the first half were little short of a perfect football machine. They ran with the ball, passed it, had tremendous blocking in the line and used intercepted passes and recovered fumbles to the best advantage. They held a 14-0 lead at the quarter and made it an almost unbeatable 35-0 at the half.

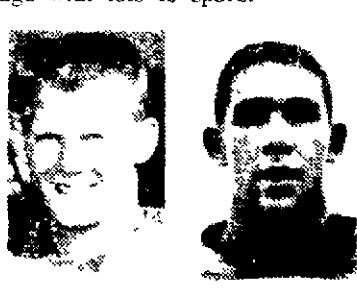

Among their other first half achievements were no lost interceptions or fumbles and only one penalty — a 5-yarder. Coach Marlon Batterman used reserves almost exclusively in the final half and they made the errors that showed up in the final statistics.

Menasha moved the ball fairly well even in the first half but failed to hold on to it was its undoing. The Jays scored on the Rocket veterans but who were playing at unfamiliar posts, tactically.

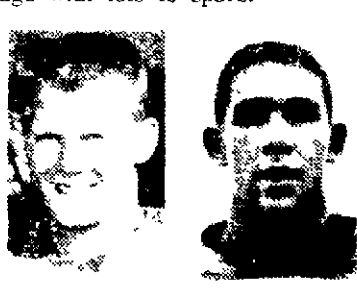

Gamble on 4th Down
Neenah's absolute control of the situation was illustrated when twice on its third TD drive it gambled from inside the 30 on fourth down and made the yardage with lots to spare.

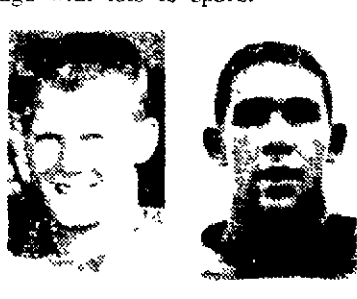

Steve Hildebrand had a great day at quarterback, both in call.

OSHKOSH — The assembly races accounted for the largest expenditures by candidates seeking county office in the election Tuesday, according to expense statements filed by Wednesday with County Clerk Nell A. Hoffmann.

Republican candidates listed expenses totaling $747.31 and another $5.60 owed. The Democratic candidates had expenses adding up to $516 and another $76.65 still owed.

In the Third district assembly race David O. Martin, Republican candidate, reported receiving $500 and spending $272.89. His opponent on the Democratic ticket, Robert E. Nordlander, listed receipts of $59 and expenses of $71 with another $23 still owed.

Floyd Shurbert, Republican assemblyman from the Second district, reported spending $293.55 while his Democratic opponent, Herman J. Brandt, said he received $18 and spent $40.

In the First district race the Republican candidate, William A. Steiger, spent $51.07 and the Steiger for Assemblyman Club listed $395.36 in receipts and $110.20 in expenses. William Manske, the Democratic candidate, had no personal expenses but the committee in his behalf received $173 and spent $101.44.

Other Candidates
Expenses listed by other Republicans were $9 by Richard "Bud" Lowell, sheriff candidate, $5.60 by William E. Osborne, clerk of courts incumbent; and $5 spent and $5.60 owed by Dr. G. A. Steele, coroner incumbent.

Incumbent Republicans seeking reelection who had no expenses were County Clerk Nell A. Hoffmann, Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber, Register of Deeds Bernice L. Fuller and Surveyor Theodore E. Stearns. The county treasurer candidate, Frank Luedeke, also had no expenses.

Expenses for the Democratic candidates for county posts are Mrs. Arden Grutzmacher, county clerk candidate, $18 received and $69.80 spent; Fred J. Sperlung, treasurer candidate, $18 received, $122.58 spent and $49.70 owed; Dr. Vernon A. Brabazon, coroner candidate, $18 received and nothing spent; Mrs. Grace Kalata, clerk of court, $4.40 received and $3.95 owed; Duane G. Philis, district attorney candidate, $53 received and $58 spent; Willard R. Boelke, register of deeds candidate, $18 received and $49.08 spent; and James Jung, surveyor candidate, no expenses.

Totals $2.2 Million

55 Per Cent of County's 1961 Costs Goes for Welfare, Hospital

OSHKOSH — Welfare work and state charges make up about 55 per cent of the $4.1 million budget adopted by the Winnebago County Board for its 1961 operations. These costs add up to $2,264,369.

The state charges come to $130,773 and include the county's share of the Wisconsin Child center, mentally ill, industrial school for boys and girls, state general and orthopedic hospitals, diagnostic center, state reformatory, Wisconsin Colony and Training School and the division of corrections.

This section of the county budget, which comes to $4,099,258, represents an increase of $172,000 over that for this year.

One of the largest increases is in the county hospital and farm budget which is up $65,000 to $614,000 while the county home budget

Children's Aid

Aid to dependent children and foster home care is up $43,000 to $373,000 while the old age assistance program is up $12,000 to $382,000. Another $10,000 was added for the disabled aid budget which now totals $85,000. Also in next year's budget is $35,000 for child welfare which was not listed as a separate item in this year's budget.

Poor relief was cut to $6,000 from $18,000 and no money was provided for the veterans service commission as that department reported it had enough left for next year's costs.

Unclassified expense of $234,127 includes the $98,397 for the airport projects and operation, $85,687 for bond retirement and interest, $29,750 for the University of Wisconsin extension center maintenance up $25,750, $13,782 for the county park, and $2,500 for the salary survey.

It also includes $1,000 for the bounty on foxes, $300 for the Oshkosh Public Museum and $400 for the county beekeepers association work. This year's unclassified expenses came to $291,956.

General government costs next year were set at $457,316, up about $6,100. Greatest changes in this section of costs were about a $10,000 increase in municipal court operations, offset by about a $13,000 drop in county court costs which were high this year because of the special microfilming of old probate records. Courthouse operation costs are down about $5,700 and fewer elections next year reduces that expense about $4,500. The retirement and social security costs are up $10,000 to a total of $106,000.

Expenses under protection of persons and property total $218,217, up just under $6,000. The $9,000 increase for the sheriff's office to cover salaries for the investigator and stenographer is cut back by a $5,000 cut in the police radio expense.

Highway Costs
Highway costs of $526,646 approved for next year are $14,000 below that for this year. More work is planned for the county trunk system but the carry over of the $75,000 for the Neenah street leads to a lower total.

Health, conservation and sanitation costs total $124,934, an increase of $10,000 with about $5,400 of that increase contained in the Sunny View Sanatorium budget and $4,500 for patients in state and other county sanatoriums.

Budgeted for education next year is $273,746, an increase of $3,500. Aid to schools is up $9,000 but a cut in the library budget of $4,600 and in the special education class at Spring Road School of $5,500 brings the total increase down.

$2.5 Million Revenue
Revenues other than the tax levy total $2,581,868. These in-

Board Orders Rates Posted In Limousines

Separate Set of Charges Made to Private Companies

OSHKOSH — National Car Rentals Inc. of Oshkosh, operators of a limousine service to and from the Winnebago County airport, was instructed by the county board Wednesday to post their rates in each of their cars.

The action came on a motion by Supv. Oliver Thomsen of Neenah, who protested a double set of rates, one for individuals and small companies and another for larger firms.

Harry Ziegler, president and co-owner of the limousine service, appeared before the board Wednesday afternoon and said the Public Service Commission allowed them to enter into private contracts with companies in Neenah — Menasha and Appleton.

He declined to list what those rates were, stating that was their own private business and would cause friction if announced.

Asks for Receipts
Supv. Thomsen also declared that he had been charged more than the rates told to the board by Ziegler and he moved that the rates be printed in each car. He also suggested receipts be given the passengers.

Ziegler said the limousine service, which carries four to five passengers in each car and also has a 9-passenger station wagon, has not been making its expenses as it has to meet each plane from 5 a.m. to 2:30 a.m. the next morning with three or four cars.

The rates he listed include Oshkosh, 75 cents; Neenah, $3; Menasha, $3.50; Appleton, $4.50; Little Chute and Kimberly, $7; Kaukauna, $7.50; New London, $20; Waupaca, $13; Green Bay and $17 each; Fond du Lac, $6; and Green Lake, $8.

Menominees To Pick Last Advisory Unit

Federal Control Scheduled to End On Reservation

Post-Crescent News Service

KESHENA — Members of the Menominee Indian tribe will vote Tuesday for 12 members of the advisory council, the tribe's local government committee, as well as for candidates for national and state office.

The 12-member advisory council probably will be the last named by the tribe, since the federal government's supervision over the Indians' 224,000-acre reservation is scheduled to be terminated by May 1, 1961, according to act of congress. The reservation then is scheduled to become Wisconsin's 72nd county.

Six tribal members will be elected at large and six to represent six districts on the reservation.

Not a Candidate

James G. Frechette, who has served for 12 years as tribal chairman and for a total of 26 years on the advisory council, has announced he is not a candidate for re-election. The long-time tribal leader, who has been severely criticized by some tribal members during the past four years of planning for termination, said he is withdrawing from the tribal political scene. He emphasized that he is not a write-in candidate and is seeking no tribal office.

The other 11 members of the advisory council are all candidates for re-election. Incumbent members who filed nomination papers are Gordon Dickie, Ernie Goodwill, Jerome Grignon, Eva Johnson, Wilmer Peters, Lawrence Richmond, Sr., Hilary Waukau and Gordon L. Waukeuse, all delegates at large; Frederick F. Millern District 1; Peter J. Waukeuse, District 2; and Mitchell Wesho, Sr., District 6.

Other candidates on the ballot are:

James J. Caldwell, Louise Fowler, Thomas A. Grignon, William Grignon, Francis Lyons Leon, Irene Dixon Mack and Margaret L. Wilber, all candidates at large; Glen Besaw, District 1; Christine P. Webster and Lester L. Dickie, District 2; Agnes G. Dick and Richard R. Lodge, District 3; Thomas J. Matchoma and Bruce A. Wilber, District 4; and Levi Nacotee, District 6.

Philosophies Collide at Board Session

Taxpayers Group Asks Cut in County Contingency Funds

Two philosophies on county government collided headon this morning as the Outagamie County Board opened its 1961 budget deliberations.

The Appleton Taxpayers Association suggested that the county board cut its near-$1.5 million tax levy by $178,000. A major portion of the cut would be a $135,000 slash of the contingency fund. "We feel the county shouldn't operate on a shoestring, but we think your shoestring is gilded," Gregory Schulte told the board. "We think the county has to have many sugar bowls around little reserve funds," he continued.

County is Banker The county needs considerable monies because it is the banker for the state of Wisconsin and cities and villages within its boundaries, chairman Alvin Fulcer pointed out.

"We realize that, but we don't think anyone really knows just how much money the county has in cash form at any given time," Schulte answered.

That's probably true, Fulcer admitted. The board spent the remainder of the morning discussing the Outagamie County Fair Association's $15,000 request, cut to $12,500 by its board committee. The budget committee submitted it to the board without recommendation.

North Central Hits Highest Totals Yet

Traffic flown from Outagamie County airport by North Central Airlines continues to increase with nearly 150 more passengers during October than a year ago. Air mail dispatched totaled 565 and 10 times as much air freight, without a single cancel-ation for weather. October was the highest month for traffic since North Central began operating in July, 1959.

There were 374 passengers de- ed to 228 leaving and 178 arriv- ing a year ago. Air freight ship- ped totaled 2,369 pounds compar- ed to 237 pounds in October, 1959, and the amount received hit 3,038 pounds compared to 1,256 a year ago.

The 374 passenger total also was far over the 250 quota set by the airline for October. The November target is 315 passen- gers.

Air mail dispatched totaled 565 pounds compared to 303 in Octo- ber, 1959, and received was 1,261 pounds last month compared to 126 pounds a year ago. Air ex- ported hit 1,950 pounds, compared to 213 a year ago, and received hit 1,630 pounds compared to 662 last Oc- tober.

of personal duel between the president and our adversaries abroad. Kennedy's view is that the contest is one of national power in all its forms, military, economic, scientific, and cultural, and that prestige, about which so much is said, is the byproduct of national power.

So Nixon has been telling the voters: "Elect me and Lodge and we will arrange it for you." Kennedy has been telling the voters: "Wake up, go to work, realize the deadly seriousness of the contest, and persevere."

It has been said that the hard doctrine which Kennedy preaches downgrades America. Quite the contrary. The preachers of the hard doctrine, which calls for effort and sacrifice, have usually been, like Winston Churchill in the days of Stanley Baldwin, the greatest patriots and the truest servants of the people.

Those who arouse the people from torpor and complacency, who shock the people with the bitter truth, are the ones who believe in their people, who believe in them enough to summon them to greatness.

The Churchills, who cry out when the people are lazy, self- ish, and sluggish with private in- dulgences, do not downgrade the nation. They force it to look at its best possibilities, and in doing that they revivify, they rejuven- ate, they renew the spirit of the people and invest them with the pride that goes with the full ex- ercise of human power.

No More New Issues—Lines Drawn Between Nixon, Kennedy Ideas

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The campaign has now reached the point where there is no longer time to raise new issues and make new arguments. Both men recognize the same national commitments and the same national interests. There is no issue between them in the personal "experience" and that at this late mo- ment any new sense that Nixon wants to go in one direction and Kennedy in the opposite direction. The real difference, then, is not by either side about ends and aims. It is about the contest of the cold war is a kind-

In the terms of the campaign, Nixon is relying on his "experience" and that Kennedy is calling for a na- tional revival. Nixon's view is that the great-

Taft, the chairman of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, has just said, last minute charges, and we may add last minute stunts, are made "with the cyni- cal knowledge that the facts prob- ably won't catch up with them un- til after the votes are counted." Were the charges or the stunts put forth honestly, they would have been put forward long since, while there was still time to in- vestigate and to debate them.

In the field of our foreign rela- tions the two candidates have made quite clear what is the difference between them. It is not, as is occasionally said, that they
